Former School Committee member looking at Board of Selectmen

By JAYNE W. MILLER

WILMINGTON - Former School Committee member Judy O'Connell pulled papers Tuesday afternoon for the Selectman race. Depending on who returns papers by the deadline, she potentially faces incumbents Michael McCoy and Raymond Lepore, along with challengers Marc Nelson and George Lingenfelter. Two seats are available on the Board of Selectmen in the upcoming April election, with five individuals currently showing interest.

O'Connell previously served on the Wilmington School Committee from 2007 to 2010. She did not run for reelection last year because she was considering a run for a seat on the Board of Selectmen this year.

O'Connell was appointed to

FBI raid

Local business targeted

WILMINGTON - Authorities are not releasing details about an FBI raid of a commercial property on Jewel Drive in Wilmington that was conducted just before 10:00 p.m. on January 27, 2010.

According to Special Agent Greg Comcowich, "The FBI conducted court-authorized activity at location."

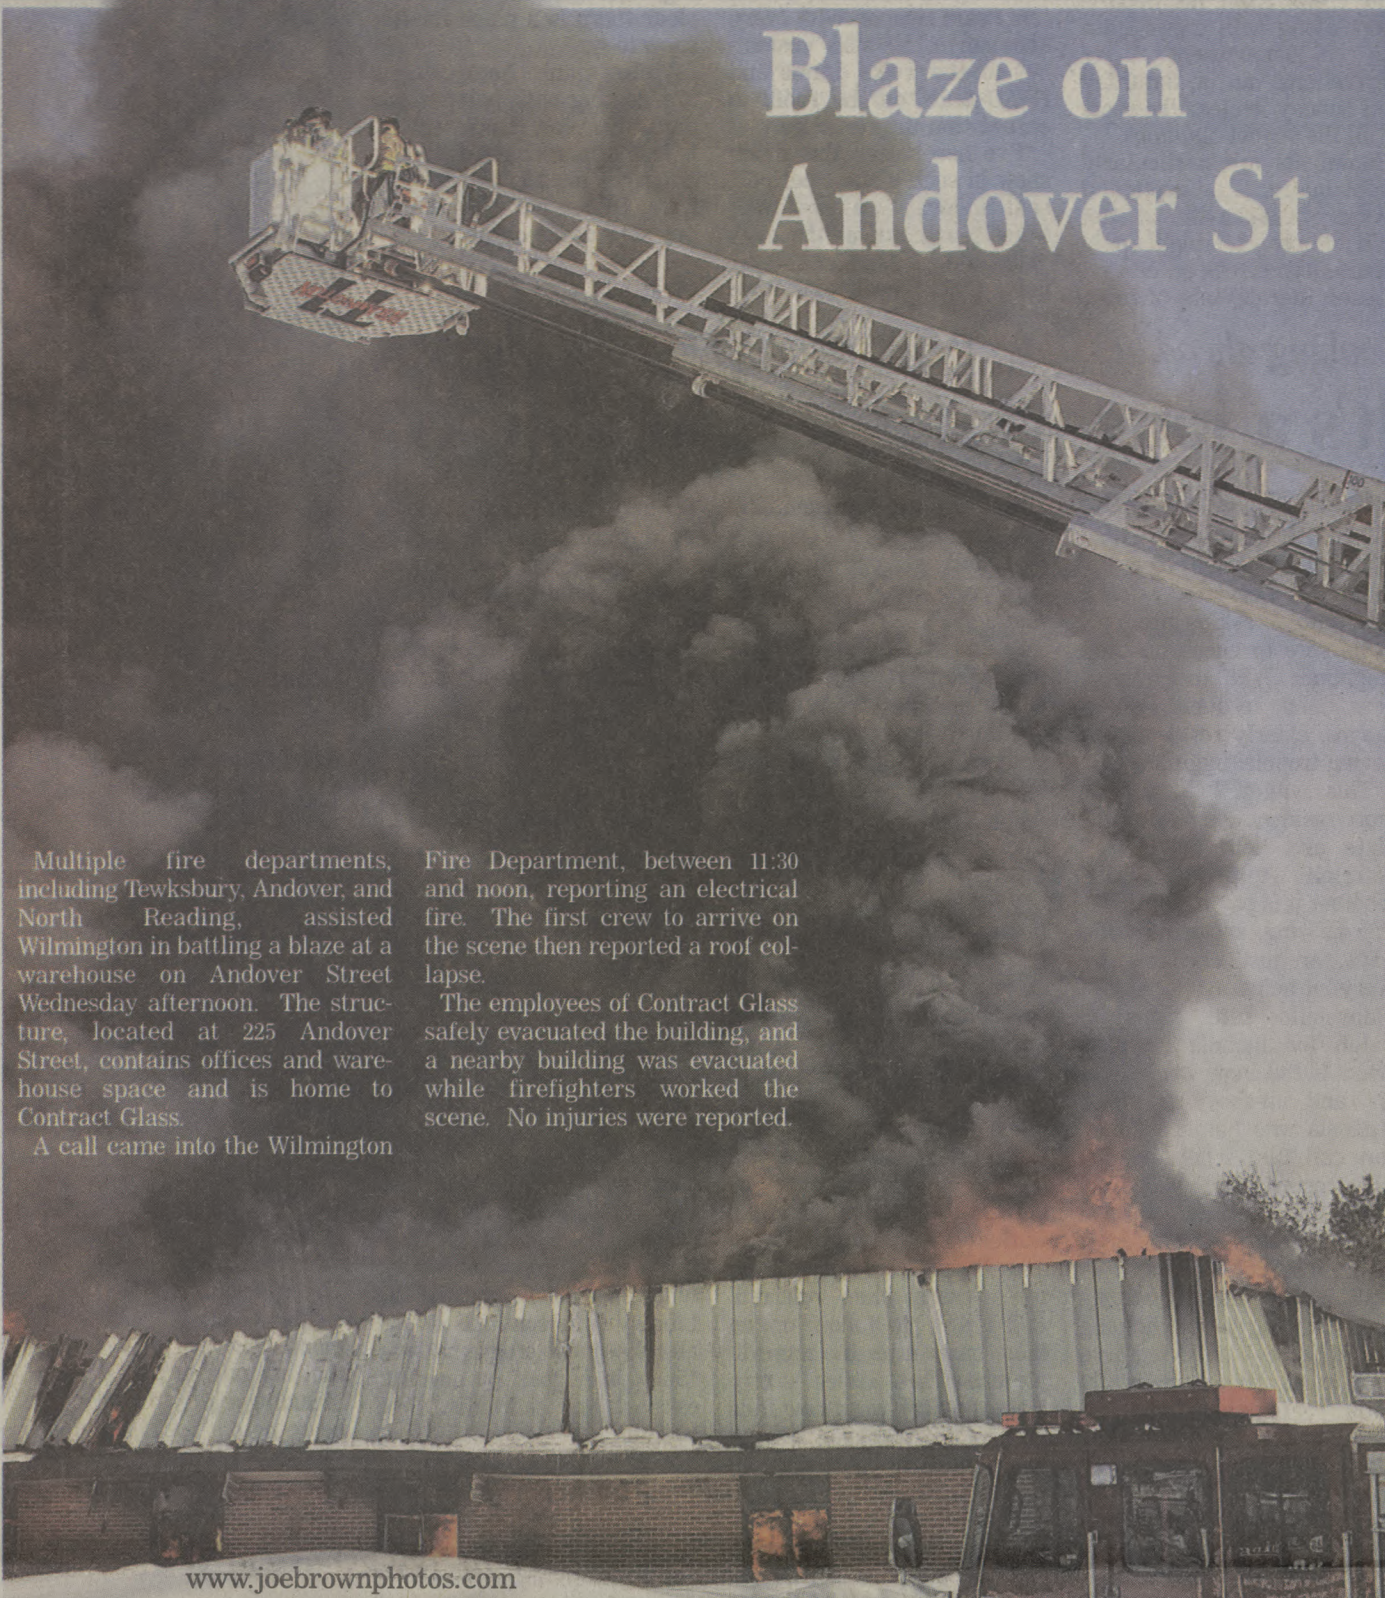

Comcowich indicated that it was part of an ongoing investigation and said that the FBI was not releasing any further details or comments on the matter. He was unable even to confirm whether any arrests had been made in connection with the investigation.

Local authorities assisted the FBI, but likewise declined any comment on the matter.

"Wilmington Police assisted the FBI on January 27, but I cannot offer any comments or details," said Wilmington Police Chief Michael Begonis. As it is being handled by the FBI, and is not his department's investigation, Begonis referred all inquiries to the FBI.

The property involved is 4 Jewel Drive, Unit 8, which is occupied by BJ Doyle Heating & Air Conditioning.

Multiple fire departments, including Tewksbury, Andover, and North Reading, assisted Wilmington in battling a blaze at a warehouse on Andover Street Wednesday afternoon. The structure, located at 225 Andover Street, contains offices and warehouse space and is home to Contract Glass.

A call came into the Wilmington

Fire Department, between 11:30 and noon, reporting an electrical fire. The first crew to arrive on the scene then reported a roof collapse.

The employees of Contract Glass safely evacuated the building, and a nearby building was evacuated while firefighters worked the scene. No injuries were reported.

One town, one author

Wilmington Reads Michael Pollan

WILMINGTON - Residents of Wilmington have likely noticed the banners in front of the library proclaiming "Wilmington Reads Michael Pollan." These banners mark, for the fifth time, the news that Wilmington Memorial Library is embarking on a "One Book One Community" effort for the month of March. This year the program is slightly different than in previous years, in that it focuses on an author and four of his books, rather than a single book by an author.

For those unfamiliar with Pollan's work, his website (www.michaelpollan.com) states, "For the past twenty-five years, Michael Pollan has been writing books and articles about the places where nature and culture intersect: on our plates, in our farms and gardens, and in the built environment."

The library has chosen four books for the community:

"The Omnivore's Dilemma," "In Defense of Food," "Food Rules," and a young readers edition of "The Omnivore's Dilemma."

Noticing the up-swell of interest in both being aware of what we are eating and in eating locally-grown food, the library is hoping to "strike a chord" with the community with the choice of Pollan's books, says Assistant Library Director Charlotte Wood.

Five snow days...so far

Dept. of Public Buildings addresses snow on roofs

JAYNE W. MILLER

WILMINGTON - With nearly 90 inches of snow in five weeks, its no wonder that schools have met the five snow-day threshold built into the school year calendar. Crews were up on school roofs last weekend removing snow drifts and ensuring roof drains and HVAC units were clear.

Annually, students in Massachusetts must attend school for 180 days. Typically, districts plan for five snow days in the calendar. Superintendent Joanne Benton explained that Wilmington starts school before Labor Day as part of the effort to accommodate those snow days without having to extend the school year farther in to June. Right now the last day of school for the 2010/2011 academic year is June 20. Any additional snow days will necessitate an extension of the school year.

Media reports have discussed other towns cancelling school vacation weeks or going to school on Saturdays to make up for extra snow days. Benton says that in Wilmington students would just keep going, adding that she does not "anticipate going into the last week of June."

She added that parents have been very supportive of the district with the snow days that have been called so far.

Ice dams – you need to know all the facts

By MARCY RAGUCCI

WILMINGTON - Due to an onslaught of snowstorms this winter that have deposited a significant amount of snow, homeowners and commercial property owners alike have been scrambling not only to clear driveways, but also to remove huge mounds of snow from their roofs to avoid both ice dams and cave-ins.

What exactly is an ice dam? Most people living in extremely cold, wintry areas of the country, know about the damaging effects of ice dams. This winter, an incredible number of inhabitants here in the northeast have had unpleasant encounters with ice dams and have gotten to experience them up close and personally. An ice dam is a ridge of ice that forms at the edge of a roof and prevents melting snow from draining off the roof. The water that backs up behind the dam can leak into a home and damage walls, ceilings and insulation. In addition to the obvious and costly construction issues, these leaks can also cause an even more pervasive issue of mold.

Local fire departments advise...

Tewksbury's Deputy Fire Chief Michael Hazel reports that the fire department has been receiving calls from nervous residents who have heard creaking and cracking noises and warns, "An excessive load of snow is something to be concerned about. Ice dams at the gutter line of the roof are of special concern if you go up on the roof. Most people don't realize the ice can go several feet up the gutter onto the roof. When the fire department gets a call from a concerned resident or commercial company, both the area engine company and the building inspector respond."

Wilmington Fire Department Deputy Chief, Edmund Corcoran, reports that Wilmington has experienced only two roof collapses on commercial buildings in the last few weeks. Corcoran noted, "A lot of people took the advice of MEMA (Massachusetts Emergency Management Agency) and Governor Patrick in regard to taking care of their roofs. One problem is that snow drifts from a higher portion of the roof to a lower part and a significant amount of snow - maybe five feet to six feet of snow accumulates." As a result of the significant snowfall, ice dams and the stress they put on buildings, Deputy Chief Corcoran has been teamed up with the building inspector since last Thursday and made numerous site inspections.

General contractor advises... Tom Silva from "This Old House" on PBS spoke with WBZ-TV's Jonathan Elias about clearing your roof before the next storms roll in.

Five snow days...so far

With more than seven feet of snow falling in such a short period of time - according to DPW Superintendent Don Onusseit, who carefully measures snowfall annually - roof integrity around the state has been an area of high concern.

In Wilmington, the Superintendent of Public Buildings, George Hooper, had crews from his department along with crews from the Department of Corrections, out on Saturday and Sunday to clear the roofs of all the school buildings.

Snowdrifts are particularly problematic, explained Hooper, because the uneven distribution of weight puts tremendous stress on certain trusses, literally tons of snow, and that can weaken the structure.

At one point he was standing on a roof, waist deep in snow, and with the top of a drift 12 feet away, and at least 15 feet high. In several cases, once they shoveled the roofs off, the pile of snow on the ground was nearly as high as the roof from which it was just shoveled.

"We try to be a little proactive," said Hooper. With every snowstorm, he asks custodians to check the drains and HVAC units on the roofs to ensure that they are clear.

"I've never seen this much snow in such a short period," said Hooper. "We got all the schools done and all the snow drifts off. I think that by doing that we ensured that we will not have any problems."

And unlike Methuen, students did not have to take more snow days just to clean off the roofs.

There is still snow on the roofs, in some places a foot to 18 inches, because to shovel all the square footage of every roof "would be like shoveling Silver Lake," said Hooper. "but with the melting, as long as the drains are clear there is a place for the snow to go."

While many homeowners are dealing with heinous ice dams this year, Hooper said it is less of a problem with the flat roofs most of the schools have. He has not encountered any serious ice dams.

Looking ahead at 2011...Department of Elderly Services

It's a long winter for the elderly

By JAYNE W. MILLER

WILMINGTON - Wilmington's Director of Elderly Services, Terri Marciello, is asking residents to be sure to check on their neighbors. With the tremendous, and frequent, snowstorms, elderly residents are having trouble digging out.

"This winter I have seen more residents step up to the plate and help neighbors," Marciello told the Crier. Whether it is paying for driveway plowing, shoveling walkways, or just checking in, every bit helps.

Marciello said signs to watch for include no footprints in the snow, mail piling up, and un-shoveled steps. Students who help neighbors can call Marciello and she will ensure that shoveling time goes time toward required community hours at the high school.

"We have been really, fortunately, seeing people helping one another. Whenever there is a crisis, this town really pulls together," said Marciello.

In other news for Wilmington's seniors, a new 14-passenger, wheelchair accessible van has been requested in the Town Manager's proposed budget. The current van has logged more than 160,000 miles.

"Transportation is such a need and we expect it to grow because baby boomers have started retiring," explained Marciello. From January 1 of this year to 2030 the rate of retirees will grow exponentially to accommodate the boomers.

TAX ISSUES IN A "GRAY" DIVORCE

When young people marry and quickly divorce, there isn't much to split up except, perhaps, the wedding presents. But some 25 percent of recent divorces involved couples married 20 years or more. Most likely they have amassed a lot more. It takes longer to determine who gets what, and how much that "what" is worth after taxes is a big question on the bargaining table.

Who gets the house? It's often wise to sell the house and pocket the full $500,000 exclusion of gains. Otherwise there's a question of whether post-split income will cover the costs.

Who gets the kids? If there are youngsters, the higher wage-earner generally will pay support for the children; this is not taxed. (Only one parent can take the dependents' deduction.) But alimony is taxed as income and deductible by the one who pays it.

Who gets the nest egg? Definite rules cover IRAs, 401(k)s and pensions. There's no tax if IRAs and 401(k)s are rolled over to a spouse's tax-deferred account; early cash distributions are more difficult. Consult with a professional before you sign anything.

"We are very fortunate in this town that we see this as a need and we don't charge for transportation," said Marciello.

Transportation is provided in a 13-mile radius, traveling as far as the Veteran's Administration hospital in Bedford, Winchester Hospital, Baldwin Park in Woburn, Lahey Clinic, Excel Physical Therapy in Woburn, as well as taking patients to chemotherapy, dialysis, and multiple physical therapy places locally.

Recently the town hired a Case Manager for Elderly Services, having been approved at Town Meeting in June. The Case Manager helps with crisis cases. Marciello said that adult protective cases have risen 35 percent this year. Marciello works closely with the Police and Fire Departments and takes cases when referred. Being able to follow up on those cases after the immediate crisis has passed is crucial, and that work now falls to the Case Manager, leaving Marciello with more time to pursue grants and other planning initiatives.

Seniors looking for tax help are in luck. The Senior Center is also offering a free income tax program right now through to the second week in April. Interested seniors should contact Marciello to schedule an appointment. All the consultations happen at the auditorium at Town Hall.

Coordinated by VITA (Volunteer Income Tax Assistance), the program does not cost the town or the department, or the taxpayer, anything as it is volunteer based. The program benefits low-to-moderate-income (generally $49,000 and below) individuals who cannot prepare their own tax returns. Certified volunteers help prepare basic tax returns in communities across the country, according to the IRS website.

On Valentines Day the Buzzell Senior Center will host a luncheon for seniors with Rotary Interact Club from Wilmington High School, bringing 30 students in to serve dinners as well as provide the fruit, appetizers, desserts and drinks. The Senior Center sponsors the meal. This intergenerational program is a treat for seniors and students alike.

"Read one, read them all; you can get something from any of them."

Originally funded by a library grant in 2004, the Wilmington community's first experience with "One Book Once Community" was the book "Empire Falls" by Richard Russo, a novelist and short story writer who also taught at Colby College in Maine. The second incarnation of the program in 2005, funded by the Friends of the Library (who continue to fund all subsequent programs) was "Snow in August" by novelist, essayist and journalist Pete Hamill.

After the second Wilmington Reads, library leaders determined that it would be better to run the program every other year, because of the amount of work involved in lining up the programs that go along with the reading effort. In 2007, Wilmington read "Before You Know Kindness" by novelist and Vermont resident Chris Bohjalian, who came and spoke at Wilmington Middle School. The 2009 book was "The Things They Left Behind" by Vietnam veteran and novelist Tim O'Brien.

This year, March is the month for the many events that are part of the program, including a kick-off event with key note speaker Joyce Chaplin, Professor of Early American History at Harvard University who teaches a course on the history of food in America; a cooking demo by Liz Barbar of Creative Feasts who will demonstrate how to prepare her favorite plant-based recipe; a session on organic vegetable gardening by Rita Wollmering of the Herb Farmacy, an organic farm in Salisbury; and a talk by Town Curator Terry McDermott on Wilmington's history as a farming community. There will also be a farm tour and lunch featuring a trip to Wilson Farm in Lexington and lunch at Nourish, a restaurant that works with local farms to include as much local organic food on the menu as possible while maintaining affordability.

Another great change made to the program this year is that there are multiple events for children to participate in such as bread baking, a brewing class in which teens can make their own soda, and another session for teens on healthy cooking lead by nutritionist Anna Tourkakis.

"There are plenty of books and plenty of time to read them," says Wood. So get to the library and check out a book and get started. And if you are interested in participating in any of the events, register soon as many of the events have limits on how many may attend.

A look back at Tewksbury of yesteryear...

Splitting the loot on Oxford Road

By LARZ F. NEILSON

TEWKSBURY - The gang had just pulled off one of the largest bank heists in history. If asked where they were going next, the answer would not have been Disney World. It was Tewksbury.

The 1980 robbery of the Depositors' Trust Co. in Medford had an estimated yield of $25 million, with at least $1.5 million cash. The gang that pulled the robbery included three police officers, one of whom lived in Tewksbury. And it was at the home of Sgt. Joseph Bangs on Oxford Road that the gang split up the loot.

They nearly got away with the heist, too. But then things got crazy; very crazy. The story goes into police corruption, murder, attempted murder, drug dealing, and the theft and altering of Civil Service exams. The scandal eventually resulted in the breakup of the Metropolitan (MDC) Police, who patrolled certain parkways, parks and MDC facilities in suburban Boston.

Bangs was a former contractor from Cambridge who landed an appointment to the Capitol Police in the 1970s. He then transferred to the Metropolitan Police, where he became a sergeant.

Gerald Clemente became a Medford police officer in the early 1960s and quickly learned that corruption was almost a requirement if he were to have credibility among his fellow officers. He later transferred to the Metropolitan Police. By 1980, he had been promoted to captain. By that time, he was heavily involved in the theft and sale of exams to police.

The third officer involved in the robbery was Lt. Thomas Doherty of the Medford Police. The gang also included Arthur "Bucky" Barrett, a convicted robber, safecracker and alarm expert; Kenny "Charlie" Holmes, and Francis "Brother" O'Leary, a friend of Bangs.

Clemente's version of the robbery is told in the book The Cops are Robbers. It was written by Kevin Stevens and Clemente, and was later made into a movie, Good Cops, Bad Cops.

According to the book, as soon as Bangs became a Capitol police officer, he began robbing state offices, taking office supplies, typewriters, chairs — anything he could get his hands on that he could sell on the outside. Bangs also rented an apartment where he ran card games for his police friends, skimming every pot. There were wild sessions with drugs and prostitution.

The 1980 bank robbery began with Bangs and O'Leary approaching Clemente, wanting an alarm expert, so they could rob a TV store in Medford. Clemente thought a TV store was hardly worth the effort. He told Bangs he should contact Lt. Doherty of the Medford PD, and he set up a meeting. Doherty suggested hitting the Depositors' Trust vault.

They brought in "Bucky" Barrett, a convicted robber who had spent his youth at the Middlesex Training School in Tewksbury, a reform school for habitual truants. Barrett brought in a vault and safe specialist, who they knew only as Charlie. It was said that Charlie had never worked a legitimate day in his life. He had nothing in his own name. His brother handled all his finances.

A month before the robbery, Barrett went to the bank and experimented with the wiring for the alarm system. Then, on Saturday night of Memorial Day weekend, the gang went to work. They broke into a watch repair shop next to the bank, cut through a wall and came in over the vault. They then cut and blasted their way into the vault. Lt. Doherty kept a watch outside in his cruiser, monitoring police radio frequencies.

At first, they were disappointed. There was only $60,000 in the safes inside the vault. Then they turned to the safe deposit boxes. Some sources say that some of the boxes belonged to "the mob." Anyway, the boxes were loaded with valuables.

The gang worked all week-end. They returned to the bank twice, on Sunday and Monday nights. Each morning, they would go to Bangs' house in Tewksbury. The pearls, diamonds and gold coins glittered like stars on the basement floor, plus huge piles of cash. Clemente wrote. He arrived home with over $100,000 in his pockets.

Even as they were splitting up the take, Clemente wrote, Bangs and O'Leary were tossing aside some of the money into a corner and stashing it in secret pockets. Because the loot had come from safe deposit boxes, there was no accounting of the total and no way for any of the robbers to know if he was being cheated.

As for the gold and jewelry, Barrett took custody of it, to hold for safekeeping. Clemente wrote that he never received any of it. "Charlie" asked if he could have a particular watch, and it was given to him. That watch later became a key piece of evidence.

After the robbery, there was considerable heat for the gang. Clemente, Bangs and Doherty were under suspicion. Clemente was trying to lay low, hoping to beat the statute of limitations, and he almost made it.

O'Leary bought a home on Beech Street in Tewksbury, near Bangs. He put the house in his wife's name.

Bangs and Doherty, meanwhile, were going nuts. Bangs moved out of Tewksbury and took up with a new girlfriend. He had always been a high roller, into flashy clothes, nice cars and a high life style.

Clemente wrote that Bangs became one of the biggest drug dealers in New England, selling about $15,000 a week in cocaine and other drugs. He and Doherty were also using a large amount of cocaine. They made regular trips to Las Vegas, in an attempt to legitimize the cash they were accumulating.

"By the time I learned that Joe would turn on his closest friend, the damage had been done," Clemente wrote. "Maybe it was the drugs, maybe it was greed, but he went off the deep end after the heist. When he talked about killing a relative or associate, you could tell he wasn't kidding."

Barrett disappeared in 1983, along with much of the loot. It later came out that mobsters Whitey Bulger and Stevie Flemmi had demanded that he turn over money from the robbery. It was reported that he gave them $300,000. Then Bulger allegedly killed him. Barrett's body was found in 2000, buried beside the Southeast Expressway in Dorchester. Whitey Bulger, who hasn't been seen since 1994, was one of the best-known crime figures in Boston.

Things began to close in on the gang in 1984. Bangs went to Doherty's garage in Medford with a shotgun. Doherty disarmed Bangs of the shotgun. But when Bangs went for a pistol behind his back, Doherty shot him at close range with the shotgun. Doctors said the only thing that saved Bangs was that he had so much cocaine in his system that his blood flow was impaired.

At the time of the shooting, Bangs had $10,000 cash in the trunk of his car plus a large quantity of drugs and firearms. While the police were swarming around Doherty's garage, Bangs' girlfriend managed to transfer the items to another car.

In searching the scene of the shooting, police found a copy of the April 1984 Civil Service exam, stolen from the state personnel office.

Bangs turned state's evidence and testified against his former associates. Clemente was convicted and was given an immediate 30-40 year sentence. He later received an additional 15 year sentence for stealing and selling Civil Service exams. The late Sgt. David McCue of Wilmington testified for the prosecution in that trial. McCue had first blown the whistle on the "exam scam" in 1978.

Doherty was convicted of armed assault with intent to murder and sentenced to 18-20 years in prison. He later was convicted on one count of conspiracy and 11 counts of RICO, participating in organized crime.

Bangs was granted immunity, not only for the robbery, but for all other possible charges. He reportedly went into the Witness Protection Program.

As per usual, the comedians performing at the Sons of Italy/Wilmington Band Parents comedy night had audience members rolling in the aisles. The show was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Friday night. Rick Surette, enjoyed himself, along with Sharon and John Gralish. (photo by Maureen Lamoureux-www.shootingstarspix.com)

Patunias

230 Lowell Street, Unit 1B, Wilmington 978-203-0341

Patunias is a country style gift shop owned and operated by longtime Wilmington resident Patricia Chryst-Staton. Opened on October 10, 2010, Patunias is a local gem filled with reasonably priced gifts that truly come from the heart.

Patunias might advertise itself as featuring "simple country treasures" but, with unique gifts in every corner, as well as a year round Christmas area it is anything but average. Boasting everything from Yankee Candles and Gooseberry Patch Cookbooks to local handmade jewelry, purses and even its own private labeled jellies Patunias has the perfect gift for every occasion. There is even an old fashioned candy cart to keep customers of all ages happy.

Patunias offers a full range of premade as well as custom ordered gift baskets for every occasion. With a variety of choices customers can purchase a standard basket or place an order for a custom basket made to suit any occasion. With so many specialty items in stock there's always something waiting to make your gift perfect.

Inspired by her mother's love for baskets, Patricia opened Patunias as a way of giving back to the community and sharing a talent for basket making that was, until recently, reserved for her family and friends to enjoy. Even the name Patunias comes from a childhood nickname Patricia's father had for her.

With a handcrafted wooden candy cart made by

Patricia's husband, Dave, and a fireplace hearth crafted by her son, James, Patunias is a labor of love that shows in its atmosphere as well as its products.

You can visit Patunias at 230 Lowell Street, Unit 1B or call them at 978-203-0341.

Letter to the editor

Concerns over study

To the Editor;

Your interview with the Superintendent of Schools Joanne Benton was like a breath of fresh air on a snow covered mountain. For Wilmington to be one of 14 communities in the entire state is a very encouraging percentage.

My concerns to whether this study is site specific and limited solely to the existing High Schools current site or if other properties in town can be given consideration. Has the extensive snow fall delayed any portion of the process? Will the High School Building Committee and the finance committee meetings be televised with agenda and minutes posted on the town web site. And according to Ms. Benton, the district will not be ready for the Town Meeting this spring. She said they would most likely request a special Town Meeting in early fall of 2011, would the final vote be on a ballot or a simple Town Meeting vote?

Lastly will the town departments, commission's and boards be providing The MSBA Board of Directors, Joslin, Lesser and Associates and the Board of Selectman with any comprehensive reports to better help with the decision making process?

Sincerely
Mark Nelson
Wilmington

Mind Matters

by Alan Weber

Financial Stress Can Affect Your Good Health

Please forward any and all questions regarding issues that you are facing, anonymously of course, in relation to mental health and substance abuse to the following email address: wilfamilycounsel@aol.com

When it comes to your health, most of us focus on eating healthy foods and getting plenty of exercise. But what we don't always realize is that daily stress, including money stress, can cause a seriously negative effect on the way our bodies function. Diseases including cancer, heart disease, and stroke are frequently brought on earlier and more seriously because of frequent or chronic stress.

Stress causes physiological effects in the body. It can increase your heart rate and your blood pressure. This, of course, leads to stress on your heart - the body's hardest working muscle.

Stress can also lead to sleep deprivation. When your body is sleep deprived, you're more likely to gain weight, have difficulty concentrating, and hamper your ability to successfully complete daily tasks such as driving and performing duties at work. And while the physical symptoms of frequent stress are troubling, stress is even more noticeable when it comes to your mental health and social health.

Money stress may also interfere with your friendships and family relationships. This is usually a result of irritability that causes discord in your relationships. Unfortunately, most of us tend to take things out on those closest to us - probably because we know (or hope) they will love us through it. But stress may also cause you to withdraw to yourself and become isolated - which usually lead to anxiety and depression. Wellness takes place when your are physically, mentally, and socially healthy. And when any one of these areas is affected, your overall health decreases. Money stress is one of those problems that can affect all three types of health and really put you at risk for major problems.

If money stress is affecting your health, don't ignore it. The longer you let it go, the bigger your health problems will become. Take control of your stress and anxiety today and preserve your health at the same time!

Around the Dial with WCTV

Concerns over snow

WCTV is very lucky to have a Deputy Fire Chief and Building Inspector who are very observant and take quick action. On February 3, while they were on another call on Waltham St., they happened to glance over at our building, located at 10 Waltham St., and saw the huge accumulation of snow on our FLAT ROOF! They came right over and inspected the inside of the building. When they saw the water sprinklers were 3-inches below the ceiling line, they knew the roof was weighted down and aiming for the floor. Immediately, they evacuated the building and told us to get the roof cleared of snow. Our landlord, Art Anderson and a small crew shoveled for the entire weekend.

WCTV wants to thank Eddie Cochran and Al Spaulding for saving our roof with their quick action. All our professional audio and video equipment is fine and dry. We have very little damage thanks to them.

Finegold pushes for financial literacy

New bill to add personal finance lessons to school curriculums

BOSTON - Senator Barry Finegold filed legislation that will help students acquire useful skills to better manage money and prepare them for their future financial decision. "An Act Establishing a Financial Literacy Curriculum" proposes to add finance-based lessons to the math curriculum for all students in the Commonwealth from kindergarten to grade 12. The legislation aims to equip students with the knowledge needed to become self-supporting and to enable students to make critical decisions regarding personal finances.

"We need to give our students the tools and skills to be successful in the 'real world,'" said Sen. Barry Finegold.

"During these tough economic times, having the knowledge to manage money and finances is invaluable. This legislation aims to increase financial responsibility for young people—something I think will benefit our students and give them an advantage for the future."

The legislation will require the department of elementary and secondary education to authorize and assist in the implementation of programs on teaching personal financial literacy. The components of personal financial literacy covered in the program will include: understanding loans, borrowing money, interest, credit card debt, and online commerce; rights and responsibilities of renting or buying a home; saving, investing and planning for retirement; and banking and financial services.

The legislation also proposes the creation of an advisory committee to investigate and study the development of curriculum and guidelines. The advisory committee will consult with individuals with relevant experiences including representatives from insurance and investment firms, real estate firms, and bankruptcy attorneys.

Robert B. Kimmet, Senior Vice President Marketing for the Massachusetts Credit Union League, voiced his organization's support, saying, "The credit unions of Massachusetts are proud to co-sponsor Senator Finegold's bill. Helping consumers make good financial decisions is a cornerstone principle of the Commonwealth's credit unions. The programs called for in this bill give our young people the tools they need to carefully manage their money and provide a better life for themselves and their families."

"Education is the first step to a successful future. With record numbers of foreclosures and personal bankruptcies, this legislation proposes to help students learn to responsibly manage their finances—something I believe they will greatly benefit from," Finegold said.

Wilmington contractor facing OSHA fines Fall and scaffold hazards at Boston's Rowes Wharf

BRAINTREE - The U.S. Department of Labor's Occupational Safety and Health Administration has issued willful and serious citations to NER Construction Management Inc. for exposing workers to fall, scaffolding and other hazards at a worksite at 20 Rowes Wharf in Boston, Massachusetts. The Wilmington building restoration and masonry contractor faces a total of $235,500 in proposed fines.

OSHA's inspection found NER employees exposed to falls of up to 17 feet due to a lack of fall protection while power washing the side of a building and while dismantling scaffolding. An additional fall hazard stemmed from the employer's failure to fully plank the scaffolding from which the employee performed the power washing.

"A fatal or disabling fall can end a life or a career in seconds," said Brenda Gordon, OSHA's area director for Boston and southeastern Massachusetts. "Scaffolding is an essential tool - and fall protection a basic and required safeguard - for this type of work. There's no reason for an employer's failure to have proper and effective protections in place and in use at all times at all jobsites."

As a result of these conditions, OSHA has issued the company three willful citations with $210,000 in proposed fines. A willful violation exists when an employer has demonstrated either an intentional disregard for the requirements of the law or plain indifference to employee safety and health.

NER also has been issued six serious citations with $23,500 in fines for improper scaffold erection; missing guardrails; failure to certify that employees had been trained and evaluated to safely operate powered industrial trucks; lack of emergency eyewashing facilities; and failure to ensure the use of eye, face and head protection. Finally, NER has been issued two other-than-serious citations with $2,000 in fines for inadequate recordkeeping. OSHA issues a serious citation when there is substantial probability that death or serious physical harm could result from a hazard about which the employer knew or should have known. An other-than-serious violation is one that has a direct relationship to job safety and health, but probably would not cause death or serious physical harm.

Detailed information on hazards and safeguards for scaffolds and falls in construction is available to workers and employers at www.osha.gov/SLTC/scaffolding/index.html and www.osha.gov/SLTC/fallprotection/construction.html.

NER Construction Management has 15 business days from receipt of its citations and proposed penalties to comply, meet with the OSHA area director or contest the findings before the independent Occupational Safety and Health Review Commission. This inspection was conducted by OSHA's Braintree Area Office; telephone 617-565-6924. To report workplace incidents, fatalities or situations posing imminent danger to workers, call OSHA's toll-free hotline at 800-321-OSHA (6742).

Under the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970, employers are responsible for providing safe and healthful workplaces for their employees. OSHA's role is to assure these conditions for America's working men and women by setting and enforcing standards, and providing training, education and assistance. For more information, visit www.osha.gov.

Your Two Cents...

Kudos to the Town for keeping the sidewalks plowed and an extra thanks to the driver of the front-end loader who dug out a path to the bus stop for us.

Wilmington

Thumbs up to Channel 5's story on John Arvanitis. Now everyone who watches Channel 5 knows about our 'Good Guy'-a selfless person who is always ready, willing, and happy to help.

Wilmington

Thumbs up and thank you to the woman who helped my son and daughter when they were stuck on her driveway during the icy storm on Sat. night. Wilmington is full of good people who go out of their way to help, something we are truly grateful for.

Wilmington

I would like to give double thumbs up to Marc Ginsberg and the Tewksbury Country Club for stepping up and saving the Father Daughter dance on the 13th. You, Mr. Ginsberg, are an asset to this community. This event is a very special day for our little ladies and their dad. I know my two girls are really looking forward to it. Thank you again.

Tewksbury

Thumbs up to Punxsutawney Phil for not seeing his shadow on Groundhog Day. Spring is coming!

Tewksbury

We would like to take this opportunity to thank the Tewksbury DPW for their quick response in solving our drainage problems during the recent snowstorms. It was really appreciated.

Residents of Janet Avenue
Tewksbury

The snow plow driver who does Temple St in Tewksbury. Thanks, but no thanks, for the pile of ice in my driveway. I know you've got a job to do, but there's a right way and a wrong way.

RMLD customer survey in February

READING - During the month of February, Reading Municipal Light Department (RMLD) will be conducting a telephone customer survey to measure customer satisfaction with the services offered by the utility.

The survey itself will be conducted by The Center for Research, a national research organization with over 50 years of combined industry experience. A random sample of 400 customers from Reading, North Reading, Lynnfield and Wilmington will be contacted by telephone. The survey firm will not have access to any RMLD customer account information.

As required by the Code of Ethics of the National Council on Public Polls and the United States Privacy Act of 1974, The Center for Research maintains the anonymity of respondents to surveys the firm conducts. No information will be released that might, in any way, reveal the identity of any survey respondent.

Any questions or concerns should be directed to RMLD Community Relations Manager Priscilla Gottwald at 781-942-6419 or Customer Service at 781-944-1340.

The last day to purchase a ticket will be this Thursday, February 10th.

The arts & crafts class will be traveling to Deerfield, MA on Wednesday, February 23rd to visit the Yankee Candle

Shop and then stop for lunch. The price of this trip has yet to be confirmed. However, it is estimated to be around $35 per person. The craft class welcomes people to join them on this trip. One may now sign-up for this trip.

DJ Jon Mansfield will be back to the Senior Center for an afternoon of dancing on the last day of the month...Monday, February 28th. Tickets are now available at $5 per person. Lunch is included if one purchases his/her ticket by February 23rd. Tickets sold after the 23rd will not include lunch.

SHINE Counselor, Jill, is at the Senior Center on Tuesdays and is seen by appointment only. To arrange an appointment, one may call the Senior Center at 978-640-4480. The SHINE Counselor is available to advise Senior Citizens on medical insurance options.

Seniors are reminded that during inclement weather, Senior Center activities are cancelled if the Tewksbury Schools cancel school for the day. When the Schools announce a 90 minute delay, it is best to call the Senior Center to see if classes will be held due to the fact that many of the Center's instructors live a distance away and their city/town may have cancelled school.

A Happy Valentine's Day is wished to all. God Bless America.

She will swear to be
yours, completely yours,
and nothing but yours,
so help her God

Oliver A. Grenier Jr.

Diesel engine mechanic for the Ryder Truck Co; Marine Corps Veteran

WILMINGTON - Oliver A. Grenier Jr., age 67, a long-time resident of Wilmington passed away at the Wilmington Healthcare Center on February 5, 2011 following a lengthy and courageous battle with Pick's Disease, a rare form of dementia, which he was diagnosed with in 2005. He was the beloved husband of Cindi (Ayer) Grenier and together they shared 26 years of marriage. Born in Lowell he was the son of Rita (LaMarche) of Downingtown, PA and the late Oliver A. Grenier Sr.

"Al" as he was affectionately known, was raised and educated in Lowell where he attended the St. Louis de France School and St. Joseph High School. Al was a proud United States Marine Corp Veteran of the Vietnam War. He honorably served for 4 years attaining the rank of Corporal before transferring to the reserves. For many years Al was an active member of the Wilmington Marine Corps League. He was also a member of the Knights of Columbus in Danvers for several years.

For more than 14 years prior to his illness Al worked as a diesel engine mechanic for the Ryder Truck Co. in Peabody. He was very talented with his hands and enjoyed fixing all kinds of things. He enjoyed working on cars, doing carpentry work, he was an avid sports fan and over the years enjoyed camping and hiking. Al always had a smile on his face and loved to joke around with his family and friends. He will be greatly missed.

In addition to his wife and mother he is survived by his children, John Grenier and his wife Kim of Marlborough, Megan Grenier and her soul mate Maxwell Stubblefield of Coos - Bay, OR.

He was the loving grandfather of Nicholas G. Grenier, Amber Bagley and John A. Grenier Jr. all of Marlborough. He is also survived by his sisters, Therese J. McMahon-Fagan and her husband Robert P. Fagan of Downingtown, PA, and Lea Gauthier-Beaupre of Dracut and is further survived by 19 nieces and nephews.

A funeral service will be conducted in the Dello Russo Funeral Home, 374 Main St. Wilmington, on Thursday, February 10th, at 11 a.m. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend. Visiting hours at the Dello Russo Funeral Home will be held on Wednesday from 4 thru 8PM. Interment services will be private. As an expression of sympathy memorial contributions may be made in Al's memory to the Alzheimer's Association, 311 Arsenal St., Watertown, MA 02172.

Walter F. Golen, Jr.

Tewksbury resident; Mass. Electric Retiree

TEWKSBURY: Walter F. Golen, Jr. age 76, a resident of Tewksbury for over 70 years, passed away on Saturday, February 5, 2011, at the D'Youville Senior Care Center in Lowell, surrounded by his caring family.

He was the husband of Alice M. (Farrell) Golen, with whom he celebrated their 54th wedding anniversary on September 9, 2010.

Born in Lowell on November 23, 1934, he was the son of the late Walter "Wally" and Cecilia "Sally" (Reed) Golen.

Walter was raised in Tewksbury, attended Tewksbury schools and graduated from Tewksbury High School in 1954. During his high school years, he was a four year member of the Tewksbury Redmen Varsity Basketball Team and the Redmen Varsity Football Team serving as captain of the football team in his senior year. In 1995, Walter was inducted into the Tewksbury High School Athletic Hall of Fame.

Prior to his retirement in 1998, he was employed for 42 years with the Massachusetts Electric Company, where he worked in electrical maintenance. Mr. Golen was the former owner of Golen's Garage and A-1 Sewer Service of Tewksbury.

Walter was a member of the Tewksbury Congregational Church, where he served as a former member of its Board of Trustees.

He was a member of the Tewksbury Lions Club and a recipient of their Lion of the Year Award.

Walter enjoyed helping those in need, hunting for bargains, skiing, gardening, photography, volunteering as videographer, outdoor activities and hosting weekly cookouts for his family and friends.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by three sons, Richard J. "Ricky" Golen and his wife Vicki of Tewksbury, Robert J. Golen of Hampton, NH and Wayne P. Golen of Tewksbury; three daughters, Meredith A. Lumb of Tewksbury, Robin J. Conley and her husband Len of Milford, NH and Tracy M. Smith and her husband Paul of Methuen; six grandchildren, Billy Golen and his wife Jess, Adam Golen, Evan Lumb, Mitchell and Chris Conley and Erin Smith; one great grand-daughter, Kiley Golen and a great grandchild to be born in the very near future; one brother, Louis "Mickey" Golen of Tewksbury; one sister, Phyllis Button of Tewksbury; also many nieces and nephews.

Pajama drive at the Tewksbury Public Library

TEWKSBURY - The Tewksbury Public Library is partnering with the Boston Bruins and with Cradles to Crayons for a drive to collect pajamas for needy children in Massachusetts during the month of February. This is the fourth year that the Bruins have run this pajama drive, but the first year the Library is a collection spot. The Library also partners with the Bruins for our Summer Reading Club.

Donate a new pair of children's pajamas and all will be given to Cradles to Crayons, a non-profit organization that helps homeless or needy families in Massachusetts. If the Tewksbury Public Library collects the most pajamas, we may win special prizes from the Boston Bruins. Pajama donations may be dropped off in the collection box in the Children's Room any time during the month of February, from February 1 to the 28. Special pajama drive nights will be on Tuesday, February 8 during our Pajamarama Story Time for ages 3 to 6 at 7 p.m. and on Tuesday, February 22 during our Must See Movie Night (for teens and adults) showing of "Waiting For Superman" at 5:45 p.m. Anyone who donates a pair of pajamas may also enter our raffle for a special stuffed dog in his own carrying tote bag—your child, or a child you know, will love it!

Please consider donating to this worthy charity during the month of February. For more information, call Noelle in the Children's Room at (978) 640-4496.

OBITUARIES

Nora A. O'Brien

Telephone operator and member of the New England Telephone Pioneers

WILMINGTON - Nora A. (O'Keefe) O'Brien, fondly known as "Nonie" to her family and friends, age 96, a long-time resident of Wilmington, MA, died peacefully at St. Patrick's Manor in Framingham on Thursday, February 3, 2011, with her family at her side.

Nonie was born in Charlestown on March 24, 1914, she was the cherished daughter of the late Patrick and Bridget (Meehan) O'Keefe. Nonie moved to Medford as a young girl and was a graduate of Medford High School. All throughout her earlier years Nonie vacationed with her family at Silver Lake in Wilmington, it was a wonderful summer retreat where everyone got together and many memories were made.

Prior to retiring, Nonie was employed for many years at New England Telephone, she was an operator and an active member of the Pioneers after her retirement.

Nonie married John J. O'Brien on June 15, 1940 together they celebrated 47 years of marriage before his passing in 1987. Nonie and John moved to Wilmington in 1954 and together they raised four wonderful children.

Nonie loved being a mother, she was caring, compassionate, and worked hard for her family. Both Nonie and John were dedicated to their children's education. They were both the youngest children of Irish immigrants. The value of a college education for their children was a goal that they accomplished through sacrifice and hard work.

Nonie was also involved in her community, she and her husband were very active at St. Thomas of Villanova Church and also performed in their fund raising variety shows. Nonie also enjoyed being a member of the Wilmington Senior Center, where she participated in their many activities.

Nonie will be fondly remembered as a devoted wife, mother, grandmother, and great-grandmother. She was hardworking, kind, and always doing for others, she was a good neighbor and a true friend who will be missed by many.

Nonie was the beloved wife of the late John J. O'Brien, devoted mother of Philip J. O'Brien & his wife Joan of Venice, FL and Acton, MA, Dr. David J. O'Brien & his wife Dianna of Columbia, MO, Janet M. Lettieri of Franklin, MA, and Nancy McMahon of Stowe, MA, loving grandmother of 6 grandchildren and 9 great-grandchildren, dear sister of the late Mary Nichols, Helen Browne, Margaret Quinlan, John, Patrick, David, and Timothy O'Keefe. Nonie is also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Family and friends will gather at the Nichols Funeral Home, Inc., 187 Middlesex Ave. (Rte. 62), Wilmington on Wednesday, February 9th at 9:00 a.m. followed by a Funeral Mass at St. Thomas of Villanova Church, 126 Middlesex Ave., Wilmington, at 10:00 a.m. Interment Wildwood Cemetery, Wilmington. Visiting hours Tuesday, February 8th from 4-8 p.m. Memorial donations in Nonie's name may be made to St. Patrick's Manor, 863 Central St., Framingham, MA 01701.

WILMINGTON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
Logo Design Contest
The Wilmington Chamber of Commerce is celebrating their 50th Anniversary this year and is looking for a fresh, new look for their logo. The logo is displayed on all Chamber communications and media resources including the Town Crier, Chamber website, and Facebook. Also, Chamber members proudly display a Chamber door decal at their place of business which will be updated to include the new logo.
So, get your creative juices flowing and submit a design that you feel represents the Chamber's mission. The Chamber Board of Directors will choose the winning design/concept and then work with professional printers to create the final product.
The contest is open to Wilmington residents/students, and Chamber members.
The winner will receive $150 worth of gift certificates to Chamber member restaurants: Chilis, Kendra & Anthony's, AJ's, Subway, Royal Dynasty and As Good As It Gets Cafe.
Mail logo designs to: Wilmington Chamber of Commerce
226 Lowell Street, PO Box 463
Wilmington, MA 01887
or email to: www.wilmingtonchamber@verizon.net
Entry deadline: Friday, February 25, 2011. Winner will be announced by March 31.
Some Helpful Tips:
• Visit the Chamber website (wilmingtonbusiness.com) to understand the Chamber's mission and benefits
• The Chamber was founded in 1961
• The symbols on the current logo represent: community (tree), residents (home), industry/business (gears)
Good Luck!

OBITUARY

Anne C. Moon

Longtime Wilmington resident; active with St. Thomas Church

WILMINGTON - Anne C. (Geary) Moon, age 83, a longtime resident of Wilmington, died peacefully on Wednesday, February 9, 2011, at the Methuen Healthcare Center following a lengthy illness.

Anne was born on June 8, 1927, the cherished daughter of the late Edward and Margaret Geary. She was brought up in Medford and was a graduate of Medford High School. She married her high school sweetheart Edwin Moon, Jr. in September 1947. Together they shared 57 years of marriage before his passing in March of 2005.

Anne and Edwin moved to Wilmington in 1974 where they raised their five sons. Anne loved her family very much. She was a devoted wife, mother and grandmother; there wasn't anything she wouldn't do for her family, they were the center of her world.

Anne was also a very active communicant of St. Thomas of Villanova Church before her illness made it difficult for her to get around.

Anne was a gentle and classy lady, she was very soft spoken and kind to others, she will be greatly missed by her family.

Anne was the beloved wife of the late Edwin Moon, Jr., devoted mother of Edwin Moon III & his wife Lorraine of Wakefield, Mark Moon & his wife Nanci of Methuen, Michael Moon & his wife Carolyn of Wilmington, Paul Moon & his wife Tracy of Goffstown, NH, and Brian Moon of Wilmington, loving grandmother of Ryan, Ashley, Kyle, Kellie, Karissa, Justin, Jennifer, Sara, Sean, and Zachary, dear sister of the late Paul Geary.

Family and friends will gather for a Mass of Christian Burial at St. Thomas Church, 126 Middlesex Ave, Wilmington on Monday, February 14th at 10:00 a.m. Interment to follow in the family lot at Wildwood Cemetery, Wilmington. Funeral Arrangements are under the direction of the Nichols Funeral Home, Inc., Wilmington.

Ice dams – you need to know all the facts

Silva acknowledged that flat roofs are more susceptible to collapse, but homeowners with sloped roofs should still be concerned. In an interview Silva warned, "One big worry is if your roof has ice dams." Silva cautions people about what they should and should not be doing about ice dams. He warns that rock salt will stain your shingles. Instead, he suggests using potassium chloride ice melter.

Silva goes on to say, "While a permanent fix for ice dams usually requires increasing the insulation, sealing, and ventilation in the attic, there is a simple way to diminish the damage after the dam has formed. Fill the leg of a discarded pair of panty hose with a calcium chloride ice melter. Lay the hose onto the roof so it crosses the ice dam and overhangs the gutter. If necessary, use a long-handled garden rake or hoe to push it into position. The calcium chloride will eventually melt through the snow and ice and create a channel for water to flow down into the gutters or off the roof."

Ice dam prevention:

According to Woburn native, Bob Corsetti, of Aspen Environmental (www.aspenenvironmentalservices.com), "The best way to prevent ice dams is to have your attic properly insulated and properly ventilated. This is easier said than done on existing older home stock. It is our experience that most homes are insulated and ventilated marginally well. That is, they get away without ice dams forming for most winters. But when a winter such as this occurs, only the best roofs and attics escape from ice damming and water damage."

Corsetti continues, "So to prevent ice dams one must have at least an R-value of 38 in the attic. This slows down the transfer of warmer moist indoor air (heated) escaping into ones attic (unheated). If the warm air gets into the attic too quickly it will not be able to escape before condensing on the attic sheathing. This will cause mold to grow. If this has happened too frequently, mold may be visible in the attic rafter bays or on the sheathing and rafters. This mold can cause several health issues, so proper ventilation must be adequate to remove the warmer air to the outside quickly, before it has a chance to condense on the sheathing."

By taking preventative steps, Corsetti maintains, "This will assure that the attic remains as close to the outside temperature as possible and will keep the lower levels of snow and ice from melting on the outside roof surface from melting and backing up under the shingles. If home owners are replacing their roof shingles, make sure the contractor installs an ice shield barrier to at least the bottom 6-8' of roofing. This does not correct the insulation or ventilation problems but it does help keep the water from entering the home in all but the worse cases."

How to get rid of ice dams...

As a certified home inspector and an owner of RJ Home Inspections, Corsetti warns, "If you are one of the thousands being affected this winter, have your roof raked or the snow carefully removed above the ice dam. Do not try and smash the ice; all you'll do is damage the shingles and allow the roof to leak worse than it is now. Then have heat tape draped over the ice dam and turn it on, this will melt through and leave a channel for the melted water to run through, therefore eliminating the backing up."

What type of roof is "ice dam friendly"?

"Prospective homeowners should be aware that some roofs and attic's are more susceptible to ice dams than others, steeper roofs tend to have less of a chance of ice dams causing water penetration. This is due to the steep er slope allowing water to drain faster. Also roofs that have other roofs coming together to form valleys are areas of concern. Generally the more valleys and angles a roof has the more susceptible to ice dams forming," warns Corsetti.

Ice dams may complicate home sales!

If you are planning to buy or sell a home this year, you need to be aware of issues that may come up in an average home inspection.

According to Corsetti, "Home inspectors look for several clues that can tip them off that a home has had ice-damming problems in the past. Many of the ice dam affected homes won't show problems for several months. Water penetration that is not dried properly will allow mold to grow." Corsetti notes the following red flags for Home Inspectors.

1. On the outside of a home they look for dark colored staining under and around the soffits and on the siding directly below the fascia and soffit. This staining is caused by water backing up under the siding and roof sheathing and picking up the color of the unpainted wood. When this water comes back into view it leaves a stain on the exterior painted side of the siding.
2. Areas of mold or suspected mold or dark staining in the attic, which are located down in the eaves.
3. Unexplained water staining in the ceilings of the home near the outside walls.
4. Water staining over window trim in the home.

All you ever wanted to know about ice dams...

Hopefully, this information will help you to be better informed about how to prevent ice dams, more prepared to get rid of them, better informed on what type of roof is liable to get ice dams, and more prepared to identify and deal with the dreadful damage they can cause.

Workers were busy Saturday removing snow from the roof of the Woburn Street School. crews were working on Saturday and Sunday clearing snow off of the roofs of many of the town's public buildings.

WHS Sports Round-Up

Wildcats even record to 4-4 on the track

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

The Wilmington High boys indoor track team wrapped up their season with a pair of impressive wins over Hamilton-Wenham and Manchester-Essex on Friday night, giving them a final record on the season of 6-4.

The Wildcats downed Manchester-Essex by a score of 66-20, while beating Hamilton-Wenham, 55-33.

Wilmington got several outstanding efforts on the evening, particularly against Manchester where they swept the mile event and the high jump. Steve Halas won the mile in a time of 4:56.8, while Andrew Sears took second in a time of 5:07.4 and Craig Smith was a solid third at 5:44.5. Halas also won the event against Hamilton, while Sears was third.

In the high jump Nate Downs was first with a leap of 6'1, while Marc Shibilia and Pat Barry took second and third, respectively, each with a jump of 5'3. The trio also swept the event against Hamilton.

The Wildcats also took first and second in both meets in both the hurdles as well as the shot put. In the hurdles Pat Barry led the way with a time of 7.63 seconds followed closely by Anthony DeSimone in 7.75, while in the shot put Eli Jennings was first with a throw of 39'10.25 and DeSimone was second at 33'2.5.

The Wildcats were first and third in the 300 in both meets with Shibilia winning the event in a time of 36.27 followed by Andrew Fino in 39.18, while they took first and second in the 600 against Manchester with Downs taking first in 1:27.4 followed by Shayne Kinsella in 1:30.2. Downs also topped the field against Hamilton while Kinsella was third.

Mike Gracia won the dash in a time of 5.95 against Manchester-Essex, with Connor Townsend taking third in 6.27. Gracia was also second against Hamilton-Wenham, while in the two mile the Wildcats took second and third against Hamilton-Wenham with Sears taking second in 10:31 while Alatalo came in at 11:33. Sears was also second against Manchester-Essex.

Wilmington got second and third place finishes in both meets in the 1000 meters behind the efforts of David Swider in a time of 2:55.1 and Livermore in 3:02.5, while they won the 4 x 400 against Manchester-Essex in a time of 4:10.08 behind the efforts of Pat Barry, Fino, Colin Chase and Townsend.

Girls Track

The Wilmington High girls indoor track team split a tri-meet past week, dropping a 46-40 decision to Hamilton-Wenham, while beating Manchester-Essex on Friday night by a score of 67-17 at Andover High School.

The 1-1 day gave the Wildcats a final record of 6-5 for the regular season.

The Wildcats dominated the Manchester, sweeping both the hurdles as well as the dash. In the hurdles it was the trio of Savannah Hubbard, Maria Patrone and Delaney Gillis all scoring points for the Wildcats, while Catrina Fryer won the dash in a time of 6.43, followed by Maye Randell and Heather Kealos.

Michelle Barnes and Alex Bischoff were exceptional against both teams in the 300, taking first and second against both squads. Barnes had a season best time of 41.04 while Bischoff was also exceptional in a time of 41.9. They were also part of the 4x400 relay team that swept with great efforts by Rachel Alatalo and Cali Pepper as well in a time of 4:32.

The 600 team of Rachel Alatalo and Jess Maienza finished first and second against Manchester with Maienza finishing in a personal best time of 1:42, while in the 1000, the trio of Kelly Hartsough, Kate Richardson and Amy Fisher swept against Manchester with Hartsough leading the way in a time of 3:23, while Richardson took second in a time of 3:29.

Fisher and Richardson continued their outstanding days by tying for first in the high jump against Manchester.

Syd Russo had a very good day for the Wildcats, running a 5:51 to take second place in the mile against both teams, while Nicole Romanzo was 3rd against Manchester.

Nikki Sirignano took first place against Hamilton-Wenham in the two mile in a time of 13:03, which also earned her a second place finish against Manchester.

Nikki Lunt and Melanie Folk finished first and second against both teams in the shot put.

WHS Boys Hoop

It was more of a track meet than a basketball game, with points being added to the scoreboard left and right. But on Friday night, a very good Manchester-Essex team defeated the Wilmington High Boys Basketball team 92-85, in a terrific back-and-forth Cape Ann League clash.

"This was a exciting, exciting game that went back-and-forth," said Wildcat head coach Jo Maiella. "It was very similar to the game we had earlier this season against Burlington. You have two teams that can really move up and down the court. I don't think either team had more than a four or five point lead throughout the second half. They ended up hitting a couple of big three-pointers near the end."

The game featured two of the better players in the entire conference - Manchester Essex was led by Joe Mussachia, who only is averaging 25 points a game and will be taking his talents to play for Amherst College next year after turning down several Division 2 offers.

"He ended up scoring 27 against us but what he does is he gets guys open, gets them the ball and they hit open jumpers so it's not just him scoring but he has so much to do with the team scoring," said Maiella.

The other top player is Wilmington junior Vin Scifo, who continues to dazzle.

"He played his best game of his career," said Maiella of Scifo's 33-point night. "The word is finally getting out about Vinny - there are coaches constantly talking about him now. I think he shot 60 percent for us that night."

Timmy McCarthy and Cole Pepper also figured in double figures with 16 and 15 points, respectively, but Maiella knows as good as his offense has been, the team's defense has to play better.

"For us we just have to worry about getting a couple of defensive stops in the second half against the better teams we play," he said.

The loss doesn't affect Wilmington's chances for a league title but the next three games will. Wilmington and Masconomet are both undefeated against CAL Large School opponents and North Andover has one loss. Wilmington faced Ipswich on Tuesday night, and then will go to NA on Friday and come home against Masconomet on Tuesday. North Andover and Masconomet also face each other on February 18th.

"We have to win outright and we control our own destiny but the weird thing is all three teams control their own destinies," said Maiella. "But we have to get Ipswich first and if we do then it'll be like we're in a two-day Christmas Tournament, needing to get both wins."

Wilmington High junior Timmy McCarthy who led the team in scoring during Monday's win over Lynnfield, has helped the Boys Basketball team off to a 12-2 start.

On Monday, Wilmington dumped Lynnfield 70-47 as the Wildcats improved to 12-2 overall. McCarthy led the way with 22, followed by Scifo with 16 and Pepper with 11.

WHS Girls Hoop

The Wilmington High School Girls Basketball team won two of three games this past week, topping both Manchester-Essex, 62-31 and Lynnfield, 61-31, in league games, and falling to Bishop Fenwick, 57-50, in a non-league game.

With the 2-1 week, the Wildcats are now 8-6 overall but 8-1 in the CAL, losing all five of its non-league games.

In the win over Lynnfield, Emily Crannell and Amanda Keane scored 13 points each, while senior Katie Aoki contributed on the defensive side with five blocks.

In the win over ME, Keane again was in double figures as she finished with 11, followed by Taylor Hanley with eight and Jenn Stewart and Michelle Woods with six each.

In the loss to Fenwick, Stewart had a big game with 18 points, and Meaghan Stinson was also in double figures with 12 as they combined for 30 of the team's points.

Boys Hockey

The Wilmington High boys hockey team continued what has been an exceptional season to this point on Saturday night with a 3-0 road win over Cape Ann League rival Lynnfield. The win kept the Wildcats undefeated in the CAL with a perfect 11-0-1 mark in the league while they improved to 11-1-2 overall.

Brian Hurley, Dalton Rolli and Andy Owens each scored a goal for the Wildcats, while goalie Joe Aucoin made 25 saves for his fourth shutout of the season. The Wildcats held just a 1-0 lead headed into the third period with Hurley having the only tally of the game on an assist by Cam Owens in the first period but Rolli and Owens each scored unassisted goals to give the Wildcats the 3-0 win, with Owens scoring an empty net tally with 55 seconds left in the game.

Wrestling

The Wilmington High wrestling team went 1-3 in the Division 3 Dual meet Tournament on Saturday afternoon at Wakefield High, with a win over Marblehead/Swampscott, while they lost a pair of close matches to Lynnfield/North Reading and Georgetown.

The 1-3 record on the day gave the Wildcats a final record of 8-8 on the season.

Despite winning just one team match on the day, the Wildcats got some very strong individual performances from three of their wrestlers, with sophomore Cody Halladay (135), senior Shawn Adams (140) and junior Alex Furlong (189). Halladay had two pins and a decision as part of his undefeated day.

"We did pretty well this weekend spite the fact we were missing a few of our starters," coach Mike Pimental said. "The team rallied together to beat Marblehead/Swampscott, and then we lost a couple of close heart breaking matches."

The Wildcats will now get ready to compete in the Division 3 Individual Sectional Tournament on Saturday at Triton Regional.

"The guys are looking great and we are hoping to peak in the post-season," Pimental said. "We want the guys to be able to accomplish their personal goals this weekend."

Shawsheet Tech wrap-up

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

The Shawsheen Tech girls basketball team continued their remarkable season this past week with four more wins to extend their winning streak to seven games and improve their record on the season to 13-1 on the season and a perfect 8-0 in the CAC Large.

It was a busy week for the Lady Rams with four games in five days starting on Friday night, but nothing seems to faze this group right now, not even the loss of two of their best players in a game against one of their biggest CAC Large rivals.

On the biggest sports day of the year, Shawsheen had their biggest win of the week. On Super Bowl Sunday the Lady Rams traveled to Haverhill to take on rival Whittier Tech in a key CAC Large tilt and they came away with a thrilling 48-45 overtime win.

Shawsheen coach Dick Barriss has seen his team win many games in blowout fashion this season, but seeing his team come through with this overtime win was more satisfying than any of the blowouts.

"Any time you play Whittier, you know you are facing a good team and they are going to be very aggressive and very tough," Barriss said. "I told the girls with about four minutes left in the game that this is what basketball is all about. When you look back you are not going to remember the 30 point wins, but you will remember the close games like this one."

And Shawsheen made sure it would be a great memory led by 23 points and 12 rebounds from sophomore center Stephanie Champoux. Whittier tied the game with 14 seconds left in regulation, but Shawsheen got a three pointer from Champoux early in the overtime period, followed by a layup by Champoux off a great feed from Kimberly Barriss to give them a five point lead and they never looked back.

Champoux was outstanding for the Lady Rams as was Barriss, who had nine points, six steals and four assists, but coach Barriss was pleased with the efforts of his entire team.

"They all contributed in some way to help the team win," Barriss said. "That is what has worked for us all season long, getting contributions from everybody."

What made the win even more impressive for Shawsheen was that they lost starting point guard Barriss and starting forward and tri-captain Jess Houghton to injury earlier in the game, but both players ignored the pain of their injuries and came back late in the game to help lead the team to victory.

Houghton was injured after falling to the floor on a hard foul in the first half, and Barriss suffered a shoulder injury in the first half as well, and then re-aggravated the injury early in the second half, but both returned to the game and played key roles in getting the win for Shawsheen.

"I was really impressed with both of them," Dick Barriss said. "You have to give them credit for sucking it up and getting back in there for us."

The Lady Rams other wins on the week came on Friday over Lynn Tech by a score of 54-22, Monday over PMA by a score of 44-34 and Tuesday over Essex Aggie by a score of 60-29.

The win over PMA was another big one for Shawsheen, considering they were without Barriss and Houghton for the entire game. They trailed 10-5 at the end of the first quarter, and the score stood tied at 19-19 at the half before the Lady Rams took over behind the efforts of sophomore guard Ari Medeiros, sophomore forward Taylor Bergstrom and junior center Julie Russell.

Medeiros led Shawsheen with 11 points, while Bergstrom added 10 and Russell had nine. Also playing well for Shawsheen were Champoux, junior guard Francesca Pesantes and freshman guard Shenelle Nardone, who made her varsity debut.

"We got a good effort from a lot of kids. We struggled early, maybe because of nerves or whatever, but they bounced back real well," Barriss said. "We brought up Shenelle for insurance and we weren't sure what we would get from her, but she played well at point guard and that allowed us to move Ari to the two guard where she is actually even better, so it helped us a lot."

In the win over Lynn Tech on Friday Medeiros had 11 points, four rebounds and two assists to lead the Lady Rams and on Tuesday night against Essex Aggie she had 10 points while Taylor Bergstrom added nine.

Boys Hockey

The Shawsheen boys hockey team also continued their torrid pace with two more wins this week, starting with a 3-1 non-league win over Dracut on Thursday and following that up with a 6-1 win over CAC rival Northeast on Saturday to pull them closer to a fourth straight league title.

The win over Northeast was obviously the most important for the Rams as it had league title implications, but the win over Dracut probably said even more about the Shawsheen program as they were able to beat a Dracut team that leads MVC Division 3 with a 7-0-1 mark within their league.

"The win over Dracut was a good one," Shawsheen coach Chuck Baker said. "They are leading the MVC Division 3, where I would like to have my team playing, so we proved we can compete over there. Dracut was a tough test, similar to what we will see in the tournament. I was very happy with the way the team played."

Junior forward Paul Cacciola had an outstanding game for the Rams with a pair of goals, while junior forward Joe Sodergren of Tewksbury added a goal of his own, his 13th of the season, giving him a team leading 35 points.

While the contribution from Sodergren has become expected for Shawsheen, Cacciola came up big for the Rams in a very big game, scoring his fourth and fifth goals of the season.

"Paul was playing on a line that was seeing time all night against Dracut's second and third line," Baker said. "He and his linemates Jeremy Leite and Kyle Huckins battled like they are supposed to and it paid off with Paul scoring two huge goals."

Senior goalie Ryan Maskell of Wilmington made 25 saves to pick up the win for the Rams.

"This was by far Ryan's best game of the season," Baker said. "He made some of the game breaking saves that a coach hopes to get out of his netminder. I think that Ryan is in the right frame of mind to continue this and hopefully step up for us as we approach the Tournament."

Against Northeast the Rams dominated from the second period on as they rolled to a victory that brought them within one win of the league title. In this one they were led by their top line as junior Mike DiGiorgio of Tewksbury had a pair of goals to give him 19 on the season, while Sodergren had a goal and three assists and Tom Price also added a goal.

Baker was happy with his team's efforts in the final two periods, and is hoping for an even more complete effort as they wind down their regular season.

It was a complete domination, with a full team effort. It is always great when you beat your league rival twice in a season," Baker said. "We had a slow first period, but we came to play in periods two and three. I hope we get three periods out of them on Thursday against Bishop Fenwick. I was very happy with the win and this pretty much clinched the league as long as we don't hit a bump in the road."

And while the Rams have been getting contributions from many sources as of late, including in this game, where Zack teal and Nicco Riparo of Tewksbury each added a goal, but it was the big guns on the top line who stepped up the most in this key game for the Rams.

"It is huge to get that from them," Baker said. "Teams have tried to shut down Mike and Joe or Tom will pick up the slack. This line is one of the best I have seen in my tenure here as an assistant and head coach. They are all great kids who work very hard to make sure we are successful."

The Rams have a chance to wrap up the league title on Saturday when they take on Rockport in a road game. Rockport has one loss and a tie in league play with the lone loss of course coming to the Rams. Baker feels his team is in good position to continue the Rams domination of the CAC.

"We will win big down in Gloucester Saturday night if we come to play," Baker said. "I know they will, they are beginning to develop that killer instinct. This team has a solid winning attitude which we lacked early in the season. We want to go deep in the tournament this year."

Does your town have a Liberty Tree memorial?

Ceremonial Liberty Tree available for public planting

KEENE, NH - Picture this: A replica of Boston's famed Liberty Tree growing in your own town or college campus -- a living tribute to the Sons of Liberty who took our first courageous steps toward freedom. Well, it can happen if your town is among the first to apply for a ceremonial American Liberty Elm with a commemorative plaque.

The original Liberty Tree claimed a place in American history. In 1646, the people of Boston Towne planted American elms on the narrow link of land between Boston and Roxbury known as Boston Neck. It was probably the first public shade tree planting in the new world. On August 14, 1765, two effigies swung from one of these elms in protest of the Stamp Act. The elm became known as the Liberty Tree, and for the next ten years it bore silent witness to meetings, speeches, and celebrations. It often served as a rallying point for the Sons of Liberty. In August of 1775, as the British soldiers left Boston, they cut down this inspiring symbol of freedom.

The Liberty Tree Society, sponsored by the non-profit Elm Research Institute (ERI) is inviting towns, colleges and schools to participate in the Liberty Tree Memorial project and to hold a public ceremony. The tree and plaque are free when 50 people or businesses sign up for membership in the Society.

In order for towns to qualify as Liberty Tree Memorial sites, they must agree to plant the tree in a prominent public place and help educate the public about the goals of the Liberty Tree Society:

- Establish personal Liberty Tree memorials
- Dedicate Liberty Tree memorials in 1,000 American communities
- Celebrate Liberty Tree Day on August 14 every year, with governors and mayors reading a proclamation
- Tell the Liberty Tree story in classrooms across the land
- Re-elm America by replanting public places

with Liberty Elms

"We hope the Liberty Tree Memorial will become a familiar landmark across our country - a living tribute to the birth of freedom in America," says John P. Hansel, ERI Executive Director. In 1984, after 20 years of research, Elm Research Institute introduced the first disease-resistant American elm and named it after its famous ancestor, the American Liberty Elm. It comes with a Lifetime Warranty against Dutch Elm Disease.

Over 300,000 Liberty Elms have been distributed. Four hundred seventy towns have established a Liberty Tree Memorial. Will your town get one? Don't be left out. Call Elm Research Institute today at 1-800-367-3567 or visit www.elmresearch.org. Leave a living memorial to our country's freedom - a legacy of beauty to be enjoyed for generations. Contact Elm Research Institute, 11 Kit. # Wilmington Youth Hockey Buzzing with good news

The Wilmington Buzzers Blue Team had their first full ice scrimmage last Sunday in Lowell. Facing off at the John H. Janas Memorial rink in Lowell, they battled the Lowell Hawks to a 3-3 tie.

The Hawks jumped off to a quick 1-0 lead, but Wilmington's Nate Packer, Zach Smith, Lauren D'Angelo, and Connor Hill pounded relentlessly on the Lowell net. Their efforts paid off with a goal by Packer, assisted by Smith and Hill to tie the game at 1-1.

It was a back and forth game where the Wilmington defense, anchored by Brian Dunfey, Rose Cuzzo, Nicholas Ackerman, Chase Perault and James Fisher held strong at the blue line continuously turning the speedy Lowell forwards around. Owen White played an outstanding game in net keeping Wilmington in the game at all times.

Outstanding offensive pressure applied by Ryan Ackerley, Jillian Fisher, Jack Andersen and Kevin Ackerley kept Lowell on their heels at all times. D'Angelo netted Wilmington's second and third goals, assisted by Smith and Packer, respectively.

Mite 3's

Saturday February 2nd, 2011 the Wilmington Wildcats Mite 3 team traveled to face-off against Billerica. The Wildcats hoped to even up the score with Billerica during this intense rematch since the play downs in Saugus.

The first period had a lot of action both ways. Leading the team was Owen White in net, as he stopped everything that came at him in the first period. Colin Sainato, Aydan Churchill and Conor Peterson attacked the offensive zone while Gina Bertolami and Cam

Humphrey protected the defensive zone. Derek and Drew Gallucci teamed up with Liam Crowley creating pressure on the Billerica Goalie while Jack Farrell and Gannon Ricci fed their teammates the puck. Jimmy McCarron, Joey Cornish and Evan Munro stayed in their lanes back checking often in the 1st period helping Peter and James Kourkoutas keep the puck out of the Wilmington defensive zone. With all the action, the first period remained scoreless with a 0-0 tie.

It was Billerica that struck first in this game, five minutes into the second period they snuck one past the Wilmington Goaltender. Billerica was all over the ice, getting multiple shots on Wilmington's Owen White, as he stopped shot after shot keeping the score down. James Kourkoutas made a great blue line stop that stopped a 3 on one breakout. Derek Gallucci skated through three Billerica players only to be denied by the Billerica goalie. Drew Gallucci, Evan Munro and Jimmy McCarron had multiple offensive opportunities.

Late in the second, Owen White faced multiple break-aways against Billerica's sniper, Owen denied all but one as Billerica went up by two.

Just before the third period began, Coach Crowley gave the team one of those you can do it, let's go out and do our best speeches. The team went out there and tried to do what the coach asked. They skated hard, skated in their lanes and created havoc for Billerica. James Kourkoutas stopped the puck in the offensive zone shooting the puck towards the Billerica goalie as Drew Gallucci caught the pass and scored his 1st goal of the game. Gannon Ricci made an unbelievable play to stop Billerica from a break-away. Jack Farrell and Liam Crowley back checked to stop play from developing. Joey Cornish found himself stick-handling up the ice going by player after player only to be tripped up giving Wilmington a power play. Conor Peterson moved the puck into the offensive zone and Evan Munro found a streaking Colin Sainato shooting his 1st goal of the game late in the third.

With the game tied at 2, Billerica found itself on the attack only to be stopped by relentless defense by Drew Gallucci. Wilmington found themselves shorthanded the last minute of the game after they were called for tripping. The tables had turned in favor of Billerica. The game was tied, but Derek Gallucci, Liam Crowley, Peter and James Kourkoutas did a great job at killing the penalty, protecting Owen White from any rebounds and securing the tie in a great fought match.

Mite 2's

It's the time of year when the coughs and sniffles can catch up with you, and for the Wilmington Youth Hockey Association Mite 2 team, it meant heading into a Sunday morning game without a few of the regulars. Alex Fitzler shifted into goalie pads on short notice, and was rewarded with the Wildcats' trademark team defense helping him notch a shutout win 6-0 over Andover at the Phillips Academy rink.

With only two forward lines, the players on the bench had an easy time knowing who was up for the next shift on the ice. Matt Ardito, Robbie Courtney, and Anthony Bowker started, backed up by C.J. Petrie, Matt Vinal, and Nathan Alberti. David Bazile shifted to center later in the game, after playing the first period on the blue line with regular defensemen Harry Serounian, Aidan Elkins, Joseph Hartzell, and Brendan Ardito.

The first period unfolded with end to end action, but it was Wilmington taking the lead with Robbie Courtney's goal eight minutes in. The assists went to linemates Anthony Bowker and Matt Ardito. In the second period, the second line came together in similar fashion, with Matt Vinal and Nathan Alberti assisting on C.J. Petrie's goal at the four minute mark. From there, the Wildcats took firm control of the game with two goals in the next two minutes. Anthony Bowker collected the next goal with an assist from Aiden Elkins, and then Petrie scored his second of the game with a bouncer from the top of the right face-off circle.

Wilmington continued their dominating play in the third period. Andover was having a hard time getting into the offensive zone, as the blue and white defense kept the puck to the boards. The Wildcats extended their lead halfway through the period, with Matt Vinal lifting a goal into the open left side of the net off a centering pass from Petrie. David Bazile wrapped up the scoring on a hard shot from the high slot with only two and a half minutes remaining.

The final minutes were all about keeping the shutout intact, and Wilmington kept control of the game with the defensemen showing textbook teamwork to put Andover off balance at every turn.

Happy with the win, the team looks for everyone to be back in action for next week's game. For more information on upcoming games go to www.wilmingtonyouthhockey.org

Michigan tops Wisconsin on the floor in WRBL play

Big 10 - Boys Grade 3 Michigan 41, Wisconsin 22

Having yet another extremely dominating and impressive performance was Keith McDonald who had a third grade boys high with 27 points, including 18 in the first half. Bailey Smith also had a monster game, but scored 12 points. Andrew Munsie had 8 points and Aidan Ryan dropped in 4 points. Nolan Kennedy was exceptional with his passes, making it very easy for McDonald to score.

For Wisconsin, leading the way was Richard McNamara with another very impressive performance, dropping 20 points. Jacob Fox scored the other basket. Alex Fiorenza and Christian Robarge were outstanding on defense.

Indiana 26, Iowa 24

The Hoosiers were all about a balanced scoring attack as their top 4 scorers each had 6 points. Those 4 players were Ryan Martin, Timothy Corrigan, Tristan Ciampa, and Jonathan O'Connor. Tyshawn Foster and Brendan Ho scored the remaining two points.

For the Hawkeyes from Iowa, leading the way was Ryan Regan with 8 points. Diego Garcia and Domenic Ardizzone also had strong games, scoring 6 points each. Dylan Albert and Ryan Clarke each had 2 points.

Penn. St. 25, Ohio St. 13

Doing damage for the Nittany Lions was Domenic Padi with a game high 10 points. Helping out was Joseph DeMonico with 7 points and Dominick DeMonico with 4 points. Thomas Abbott and Jake Arsenauff each had 2 points.

For the Buckeyes, Brian Elder was the game high scorer with 6 points. Helping out was Zachary Morris, Anthony Bowker, and Evan Vachon with 2 points each. James Valente had the remaining point with a free throw.

Ivy League - Boys Grade 4 Yale 31, Princeton 29

Winning the most exciting game of the day was the Yale and Princeton duo, as it came down to the final buzzer to determine a winner. After Princeton sank a shot to take a 1 point lead with just seconds left, Yale dribbled right down and sank a three pointer as time expired to steal the victory from Princeton. Playing the role of hero for Yale was Jordan Hamel, who made that incredible shot at the buzzer to give Yale the victory. He scored 15 points in the game to lead all scorers. Kyle Kenyon also came up huge for Yale, as he rebounded the ball well, and poured in 8 points of his own. Matthew Morganelli added 6 points for Yale, and Aidan Coakley and Cameron Hamel added 2 points each. Tyler Beraldi and Jacob Febbo also played well for Yale.

Princeton was led by Daniel Woods in their heartbreaking loss, as he scored 15 points of his own to keep his team in the game. Christopher Deschenes also had a career day, and he threw in 8 points of his own. Coleman Kelly added 4 points, and Nicholas Kullman added 2 points for Princeton. Brodie Caizzi and Joshua Williams also played well for Princeton.

Cornell 20, Dartmouth 10

Cornell continued their impressive win streak, as they cruised to victory over a tough Dartmouth squad. Cornell was led by Samuel DeAngelis, who despite being the smallest kid on the court, used his impressive skill set to drop in 14 points in the game. Supporting his immense performance was Peter Marino, who scored 2 points for Cornell. Sam Wilson and Riley McCue threw in another 2 points each to finish off the Cornell attack. Christopher Stokes and Ben Packer also played well for Cornell.

Dartmouth was led by Troy Riekstins, who scored 4 points for the Big Green. Aaron Soto threw in 3 points for Dartmouth, and Samuel Vince added 2 points. Nicholas Moore added a free throw for Dartmouth. The Big Green also received quality minutes from Joseph Scioli and Christopher Medeiros.

Columbia 9, Brown 7

Brown made an unbelievable second half comeback, but Columbia managed to hold on for a 2 point victory in the final seconds of the game. Columbia was led by Matthew Thomas, who scored 3 points in the game. Benjamin Wright added

2 more points, and Dillon McCarthy added another 2 for Columbia. Finishing off the Columbia attack was Kyle Gardner, who scored 2 points in the game. Zachary Dancewicz and Joshua Fraser also played well for Columbia.

Brown was led by the defensive presence of Nicholas Leighton, who made several impressive steals, while scoring 3 points. Jason Marquard and Michael Champoux added a basket each for Brown as well. Dean Nally and Colin Rooney were also impressive for Brown.

Big East

Boys Grades 5&6

Syracuse 26, Marquette 24

The Syracuse Orangemen were able to hold off a scrappy Marquette squad by a single point, despite Marquette's impressive last second efforts. Leading the way for Syracuse was the dynamic duo of Kevin O'Donnell and Matthew Kahlman. They scored 9 and 8 points respectively, to lead the Orangemen attack. Cameron Saragosa threw in 4 points for Syracuse, and Jack Boyle and Colin Stanford contributed 2 points each. Finishing off the Syracuse attack was Scott Burke, who sank a single free throw in the game. Mark Lauziere and Conor Kilbride also played well for Syracuse. Marquette was led by the outstanding performance of Andrew Dalio, who sank 14 points in the game.

Scott Edwards and Sudarshan Swamy backed him up with 3 points apiece, and Nicholas Skeirik threw in an additional basket. Dylan Bresnahan rounded off the Marquette attack with 2 points of his own. Also giving a strong performance for Marquette was Tucker Byrne.

Notre Dame 31, Louisville 9

Notre Dame's offense came out firing and could not be stopped throughout the game, despite the best defensive efforts of the Louisville Cardinals. Notre Dame was led by the offensive duo of Jack Sweeney and Sean Braz. Sweeney poured in 12 points in the game, while Braz threw in another 10 of his own. Jared Marquard also played well, and scored 6 points for the Fighting Irish. Stephen Bonish and Alec Bonaccorsi teamed up to score 5 points apiece, and Cristian Beltran threw in a basket for Notre Dame. Brendan Thorpe also had a strong game for Notre Dame.

Louisville was led by 4 points from Jake Fulkerson, and the single baskets of David Bailey and Lorenzo DiMambro. Angelo Perrino added a free throw for the Cardinals. Joe Cuscuna and Michael Chrismeyer played good defense for Louisville.

UConn 26, Georgetown 22

The Connecticut Huskies were able to hold off a talented Georgetown squad by a slim 4 point margin of victory in yet another close game on the day. Leading the way for UConn was Nithish Kalpat and Michael Soel, who each poured through 8 points for the Huskies. Connor Benoit and Zachary Ahlin scored 4 points each to help the Huskies cause, and Patrick Dullea threw in another 2 points for Connecticut. Shane Adams and Jackson Smith also gave strong performances for Connecticut.

Leading the Georgetown offense was Michael Daly, who threw in 8 points for the Hoyas. Brandon Belmonte and Kevin Fothergill added 4 points each, and Tyler Roberts added 2 points for Georgetown. Also scoring 2 points was Kyle Bolis and Liam Rooney. Chancellor Harper and Anthony Dell'Anno also had solid games for the Hoyas.

Pittsburgh 22, Providence 17

Pittsburgh was able to outlast a strong Providence team on offense, and cruised to a hard earned victory over the Friar squad. David Woods gave a strong performance for Pittsburgh, as he shot his way to 8 points in the game. Aditya Gautham and Tyler Hamilton also played well, and scored 4 points apiece for the Panther offense. Sam Jennings threw in 2 points for Pittsburgh, as did Jesse Valente and Matthew Cook. Matthew Spinos was scrappy on the defensive end for Pittsburgh, and Travis Hamilton grabbed several key rebounds throughout the game.

Providence was led by their leading scorer, Ben Pastore, who scored 7 points for the Friars. James Carroll and Brendan Pierce contributed 4 points each for their team, and John Cox made a key basket for Providence. Also playing well for Providence was Michael LeBlanc II and Anthony Celata.

Villanova 28, Rutgers 26

This action packed game bounced back and forth both ways, but Villanova prevailed in the final seconds to score a slim victory over the offensively powerful Rutgers squad. Kellan Hardy led the way for the Villanova Wildcats, as he led all scorers in the game with 12 points. Justin Ekstrom was a force down low for Villanova, and he poured in 8 points for the Wildcats. Kyle Felisberto also played well, and contributed 7 points for the Villanova offense. Sean Hardy completed the Wildcat attack by sinking a single free throw. Villanova was led on defense by Kevin Mallinson and Alex Fischer. Leading the way for Rutgers was Ryan Aldrich, who scored 10 points in the game. Connor Griffin threw in another 5 points, and Scott Faltone followed him with 4 points. Anthony Luti sank 3 points, and Jason Spizuoco and Ryan Maher added 2 points apiece. Also playing well for Rutgers was Sean Devlin and Brendan Daly.

Conference USA

Boys Grades 7&8

Tulane 17, Rice 15

Leading the way for Tulane was Brendan McCarthy with 6 points. Helping out McCarthy was Shawn Reardon and Nathan Vince with 3 points each. Also contributing was Trevor Worthington and Andrew McCarthy with 2 points each. The other point was on a perfect free throw by Patrick Dunfey. As for Rice, Lucas Garrity did the damage for the Owls with 6 points, 4 of them coming from the free throw line. Mark DeRosa had a 3 while Joseph Visalli and David Krueger each had 2 points. Patrick Finn and Daniel Valerio each were 1-2 from the free throw line for a point each.

Southern Miss 20, SMU 17

Leading what was a balanced scoring attack for Southern Miss was Sean Walsh with 5 points, including a 3. Ian Palmer had 3 points, as did Liam Reynolds. Reynolds was also a monster on defense with 7 blocked shots. Michael Russo and Thomas Simmons each had 2 points while Edward Gear had a free throw.

For SMU, Brad Fisher, Colin Kennedy, and Daniel Bell each drank the most scoring punch for their team by scoring 4 points apiece. Dylan Masiello and Liam Bennett each had 2 points, while Matthew Sutton had a very important free throw in the second half.

Marshall 27, Houston 27

In the first tie of the WRBL season, Marlon Felisberto led Marshall with a game high 8 points. Also contributing was Patrick Keough and Bryan O'Keefe with 7 points. Ryan Kinsella had 4 points while Michael Gake had a point. On the other side for Houston, Eric Berube scored a team high 7 points, 5 coming in the first half. Helping out Eric was Billy Falter with 6 points and Kenny Anglemyer with 4 points. Kevin Richardson also scored 4 points, while Zach Toto had 3 points.

Tulsa 26, E. Carolina 23

Doing serious damage for Tulsa was Zach Rourke with 14 points. Helping out Zach was Andrew Vellucci with 6 points and Brian Neal with 4 points. Evan Sperlinga had the final 2 points. Kyle Mirabito and Timothy Benoit played excellent defense in crunch time to seal the victory. For the Pirates, Rob Fullerton led the way with 9 points, including 5-8 from the free throw line. Justin Wright had 5 points, Cole Walsh had 4 points, and Jon Roberts and Joshua Gentner had 2 points each. Nicholas Poli had the other point coming on a picture perfect form free throw.

Central Florida 29, Memphis 24

Taking charge for Central Florida on this Saturday was Zachary Leighton. Leighton was unstoppable, dropping in a game high 17 points, including 13 in the second half. Thomas Noffle and Austin Ferreira also contributed 6 points each. Connor Zaya was a beast on the boards.

For the Tigers, Ben Rohleder had 10 points, including 5 points in each half. Helping out Ben was Kevin Burke with 7 points and Nicholas Trevisone with 5 points. Daniel Carney had 2 points while Andrew Lesperance scored the remaining free throw.

NBA - Boys Grades 9&10

Lakers 64, Nuggets 38
The Lakers continue their winning streak this week with Matthew Pickett continuing to lead his team to victory. Pickett, after a 23-point performance last week, left the court this week with another 20-point performance. His teammates William MacKinnon and Ryan McCarthy managed to add some much needed points as this duo scored 16 and 11 points respectively. MacKinnon scored all of his in the first half alone. Colin Chase contributed 8 and Marcus Cole added another 7. James Carroll refused to be denied as he added the final two points.

The Nuggets were led by the duo of Kody Dunnett and Tim Masiello, each of whom finished with double digits. Dunnett finished with a team high 16, while his partner, Masiello, finished with 11. Mike Marinella was next in line with 7, and teammates Daniel Lee and Tim Penney rounded out the scoring with a basket apiece.

Hornets 57, Bulls 53

The Hornets continue to leave stingers in their opponents with yet another exciting victory over the Bulls. Three Hornets players finished in double digits. David Arria was once again the team's leading scorer as he walked away this week with an astounding 22 points. Pat Barry finished with 13, including a trey and Chris Palmerino had 10. Alex Girardi and Alex Neville combine for 7 points - Girardi with 4 and Neville with 3. Jon Mack added 2 and Andrew Morris scored the final point. The Bulls put up an amazing effort with the duo of Zack Sheppard and Tim Woods each finishing with 18 points. Matt Chiricosta also finished in double digits as he walked off the court scoring 10 points. Jeff Favuzza added 4, while Adam Cocoluto chipped in the final 3 points.

Heat 46, Nets 36

The Heat was on fire this week bouncing back from last week's heartbreaking loss to the Lakers. The Heat had a balanced scoring attack - every present player contributed some amount of points. Ryan Cocco was the team leader finishing with 16 points. Daniel Fothergill chipped in with 8, while Peter Warren and his teammate wearing jersey 8 each scored 6. Brian Priem and Connor Townsend both put in a basket in the victory.

The Nets refused to give up as they played a determined forty minutes. Arthur Papasthathis once again led his team as he finished this week with 13 points. Eric Masiello and Jack Campbell each chipped in with 8 and Brandon Wong added 5 more points to his team's 36-point total. Dylan Walsh rounded out the scoring with a deuce. Connor Burke made many great passes and key plays for his team.

Girls Grades 3&4

Richmond 20, Dayton 8

Emma Surette's play at the power forward position resulted in top-scoring honors (10 points) and Richmond getting a nice win over Dayton Saturday. Tess O'Connell (8 points), Samantha Fusco (8 points), and Jennifer Mills (4 points) complimented Surette's efforts nicely. Carli Spada (2 points) and Colleen Carter supported the offense with hustle and heads up play all game.

Sophia Bonaccorci threw in 4 points in a strong offensive effort for Dayton. Madison Grace and Alana Burns had 2 points each as they played tenaciously on both ends of the floor. Sophia Fruciano made some nice plays on defense to stop Richmond at critical points in the game. Montserrat Turrizo and Olivia Brooks worked tirelessly on defense to keep Richmond away from Dayton's basket.

Fordham 16, Duquesne 13

Gabby Bond, Fordham's prolific scorer, led the way once again with 12 points in a nice win over Duquesne. Emma Garrity and Marisa Reardon each contributed 2 points to the team total. Melanie Hayden and Maura Sullivan supported the scorers with excellent interior passing. Jessica Daniliuk and Christie Cappiello intimidated Duquesne with their aggressive defensive play under the basket.

In a valiant offensive effort, Emily Wright poured in 6 points and Tori Sheehan had 4 points as the tandem accounted for much of Duquesne's scoring. Alexandra Pitz had 2 points and Ashley Dankese scored 1 point on a free throw attempt after being fouled driving to the basket. Gianna Petrucci and Devon Robinson tightly defended the Fordham players and caused multiple turnovers.

Temple 22, Xavier 12

Ryan Bailey was unstoppable on the offensive end of the floor scoring 10 points as Temple won over Xavier. Alanah Colantuoni added 4 points to the total in a solid all around offensive effort. Julia Gordon (6 points) played well and made baskets from both short and long range. Alyson Colantuoni rounded out the scoring with a basket. Lian Leduc prevented Xavier from putting points on the scoreboard with her excellent defense throughout the game.

Xavier's Julia Galvin scored 5 points to lead her team in a solid performance. Emily Gear (2 points) and Sara D'Entremont (2 points) showcased their dribbling skills and passing abilities that led to many easy Xavier baskets. Meghan Robarge (2 points) and Danielle Liscio (1 point) complimented both the offense and the defense with their unselfish play. Alexa Williams and Courtney Cummings worked tirelessly on defense to keep their team in the game.

Rhode Island 20, LaSalle 18
Kayla Bourrell (10 points) and Gina Mastroilli (6 points) teamed up to score 16 points and help Rhode Island triumph over LaSalle in a tightly contested game on Saturday. The remaining offensive production in the win was provided by Victoria McGloughlin (4 points), who scored from both the field and the free throw line. Rhode Island's finely tuned offense had great passing from Kacie Bourrell and aggressive rebounding from Avery May and Shauna Pierce. Julia Willson contributed to the team effort with strong play on the defensive side.

Jenna Tavanese slashed through a myriad of defenders all game and ended up with 10 points for LaSalle. Sara Babcock had 6 points and Meghan Canale chipped in 2 point to complete the scoring for LaSalle. Kiki Barnum and Anna Rideout constantly harassed the Rhode Island guards and made it difficult for them to pass to teammates. Olivia Almeida, Samantha Ianniciello and Julia Hill worked tirelessly on defense throughout the game to prevent Rhode Island dribble penetration to the basket.

ACC - Girls Grades 5&6

Virginia 12, Wake Forest 00
Virginia's top scorers, Julie D'Augusta (4 points) and Sonia Purohit (4 points), helped lift their team to a victory on Saturday over Wake Forest. Contributing to the scoring and playing strong all game were Julia Burke with 2 points, and Nicole Mallinson with 2 points. Emily Carroll and Erin Riel's interior passing on offense helped teammates get some easy baskets. Prachi Jhavar's strong defense caused the Wake Forest players considerable difficulty.

Despite an off day on offense, Wake Forest showed its character by maintaining their composure and playing hard until the end of the game. Katie Columbo, Samantha Columbo and Jackie Champoux's hustle on the defensive end of the floor stood out. Kyra Walsh and Vanessa VanDeMark rebounded well and made excellent outlet passes. Jenna Sullivan, Lindsey Rosania and Katelyn Biggins defensive efforts were exemplary.

Miami 26, Maryland 14

Siobhan Reidy's 12-point effort gave Miami a victory over Maryland Saturday. Miami's well-balanced offense had five players scoring points including Olivia Cigna with 6 points, Fariha Haque and Lauren Field with 4 points each, and Holly Doyle with 2 points. The defense was relentless and was led by Brianna O'Donoghue and Rachel Warren who were all over the floor.

Veronica Walsh, Chloe LeBlanc and Erica Natola shared top-scoring honors with 4 points apiece for Maryland. Macy Doucette helped the offensive effort with 2 points. Jennifer Tague and Krista Brown did an excellent job keeping the offense moving. Sophia Puccio's stellar defense made it difficult for Miami players to get to the hoop.

Clemson 35, Duke 22

Sara Berube's game-high 21 points secured the win for Clemson over a strong Duke team on Saturday. Excelling offensively were Emily O'Keefe with 8 points and Julia Gaffey with 6 points. Rebecca Gullotto, Jessica Moore and Arianna Bernardo were key components in Clemson's smothering defense.

Alanna Wagman and Kate Fitzpatrick were high scorers for Duke with 6 points apiece, and Shannon O'Grady and Victoria Tompkins both had 4 points as their team played well against Clemson. Morgan Casey had 2 points in a solid all around game. Christine John did an excellent job rebounding under the offensive boards. Tayla O'Neal and Samantha Belmonte complimented the offense with their tough defensive play on the Duke end of the floor.

WNBA - Girls Grades 7-10

Mercury 19, Sparks 4

The Mercury avenged last week's loss with an astounding 19-4 victory over the Sparks. Michelle Murray carried her team by outscoring the Sparks with 9 points of her own. Bridget Sullivan added 5; including a great three-point shot in the first half. Christina Spinos and Maeve Sullivan each finished the day with a deuce. Hailey Liston showed a lot of determination this game as she refused to lose two straight games.

The Sparks took a lot of great shots, but were just unlucky as only two shots fell in the ocean all game. Erin Duffy and Shannon Mota each scored. Samantha Rideout, Mary Lesperance, and Mara Zaccardi played extremely well on the defensive end helping to hold the Mercury to only 19 points.

Storm 30, Sky 13

Behind a 23-point performance by Kaila Bavin, the Storm walked away from week 6 with an exciting victory. Bavin threw in 16 of her game high total in the second half alone. Erica Pudvelis and Jamie Shanning pitched in for the victory with Pudvelis scoring 5 and Shanning finishing with 2. Caroline Sulick and Brianna Perrino had great performances for the Storm this week.

The Sky's Victoria Lee led her team with 6 points. Caroline Albanese was next in line with 5 points and Samantha DeMonico scored the final 2. Katelyn Richardson and Michaela Rodenhiser both played with a lot of hustle on both ends of the court.

Mystics 26, Liberty 24

In the most exciting game of the day, the Mystics were able to hold onto a slim lead as the final seconds ticked off the clock. Jessica Hogan had a team high 16 points on a balanced scoring effort in each half. Hogan scored nearly all of her team's first half points. Kayla Falter added another 4, while Lauren Mulligan, Samantha MacInnis, and Katie Blair each threw in 2 points. Liberty's Hannah Brown continues to tear apart the WNBA league as she had a game-high 18 points.

After a slow start, Brown came back revitalized to score 16 in the second half alone. Her teammates chipped in for the final six points with Carolyn Nasiff scoring 4 and Alivia Hamel adding 2. Katelyn Stevens and Samantha Martignetti played a great game for each of their teams

Tewksbury Youth Football to discuss future

The Board of Directors of Tewksbury Youth Football will be conducting a parent/coaches informational night regarding the potential format options that have been investigated for the Cheerleading and Football participants in the Tewksbury Youth Football Program.

Over the past few years some parents have made inquiries about playing more teams in the surrounding towns. The Board has explored the options, and would like to share these findings with all parents and coaches and receive feedback.

All parents of players and cheerleaders are requested to attend this informational night on Thursday, February 10th, at 7:00 pm at the Tewksbury Memorial High School Cafeteria.

The purpose of this meeting is to provide everyone with both an understanding of what the Board has researched and with the choices facing Tewksbury Youth Football. Our goal is to make the decision that has the most positive impact for the entire organization. We ask you to attend this meeting whether you are in favor or opposed to travel so that you can provide us with as much feedback as possible.

TYF has investigated numerous options, and we look forward to sharing the facts with you as we work with you to create the best scenario for our children as players and cheerleaders.

Open night set for Athletic Alumni and Friends

The newly formed Wilmington Athletic Alumni and Friends organization has officially announced that an open night to register for the group will be held on March, 10th, at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Wilmington beginning at 7:00 pm. The admission to the event is free.

As previously mentioned in a story that ran three weeks ago, you can become a member of the Wilmington Athletic Alumni and Friends organization for a $15.00 one-year fee, which includes a $10.00 registration fee and a $5 maintenance fee, or you can become a lifetime member which costs $25.00. The money from its members, as well as other events sponsored by the organization and donations from company sponsorships will then be used for a number of activities including a number of alumni sporting events, and a number of social gatherings.

The group has also announced that tickets are now available for the 'The 100 Hungry Wildcats', an event planned for Saturday, March 25th at 7:00 pm at the Knights of Columbus Hall. This event costs $100.00 per person and includes a dinner and a drawing, in which the last four ticket holders will receive cash prizes. Each person attending the event will be given a ticket, and if all 100 tickets are sold, the prize structure goes as follows: $1,500 for first prize, $500 for second prize, $250 each for third and fourth prize. While the last four tickets drawn receive prize money, the first four tickets drawn also receive cash prizes and the fifth will receive a gift certificate. The last four numbers remaining will have the option to split the remaining cash prizes.

Besides 'The 100 Hungry Wildcats' events, other events this year currently being organized will be the return of the Tommy Aprile Memorial Class Reunion Softball tournament with a dance, as well as a golf tournament in May and then a Tennis Ladder in the spring. For more information about the organization, to become a member or sign up for an upcoming event, log onto "WildcatAthleticAlumni.com" or you may contact President Jack Cushing or any of the other board members.

Pendenza adding life to a very tough UML season

By DAN IGO
Sports Correspondent

Wilmington's Joseph Pendenza notched his third assist of the season for the UMass Lowell men's hockey team and came within inches of scoring his eighth goal of the year in a 3-1 loss to Boston University on Friday night at Agganis Arena.

Pendenza, a freshman forward, dished out the assist late in the third period. In the first period the Arlington Catholic graduate hit the crossbar just over a minute and a half into play.

Pendenza has been one of the few bright spots on an UMass Lowell team that sports a record of 4-21-2, including 3-17-0 in conference play. Pendenza has seven goals so far this season and is seeing time both on the power play and the penalty kill.

UMass Lowell looks to get back on the right track this Friday when it hosts Northeastern at Tsongas Arena.

Pendenza wasn't the only Wilmington resident to excel on the ice over the weekend. Stonehill's Eric Scholl scored his first goal of the season in his team's 6-3 loss to Assumption.

Scholl, a senior defenseman, scored his goal in the third period, but the Skyhawks weren't able to recover from a four-goal barrage from Assumption earlier in the game. His tally was also a power play goal.

Scholl and the Skyhawks are next in action on Saturday when they play host to Southern New Hampshire University.

Evan White is halfway through his sophomore year at UMass Lowell, and the Tewksbury native shows no signs of slowing down on the track.

White won the 400 meter dash to help lead the River Hawks to a strong showing at the Yale University Giegengack Invitational Friday and Saturday. He ran a time of 48.96 seconds, and was the first of three teammates who placed in the event.

Earlier in the week White was named to the Northeast-10 Conference Honor Roll after his winning performance in the BU Invitational last weekend.

White and the River Hawks will compete in the Boston University St. Valentine's Day Invitational Friday and Saturday at the BU Track and Tennis Center.

Kristin Judge had a memorable weekend for the University of Pennsylvania women's track team as she finished in a tied for first in the high jump at the New Balance Collegiate Invitational at the Armory in New York City.

Judge, a junior from Tewksbury, cleared the bar at 1.65 meters and tied with two other jumpers for first place. However, once tiebreakers were calculated, she ended up finishing in second.

Judge and the Quakers are back at the Armory this weekend to compete in the Armory Invitational.

Tewksbury's Brittany Murphy scored her eighth goal of the year for the UConn women's hockey team as they dropped a 3-2 heartbreaker to Boston College on Friday.

Murphy, a senior forward, scored late in the first period to give the Huskies a 1-0 lead. However, Boston College scored two goals late in the third period to send the game into overtime, where they eventually closed the Huskies out.

The Huskies now sport a record of 12-16-1. They will travel to Rhode Island on Saturday to take on the Providence Friars.

Two local athletes competed for the Worcester State men's indoor track at the Tufts Stampede Invitational on Saturday. Tewksbury's Kevin Maciel, a freshman, finished in 16th place in the 200 meters with a time of 23.96.

JON PARRELLA

Sophomore Jon Parrella, a Wilmington native, finished in 18th place in the 60 meter hurdles with a time of 9.82.

A Tewksbury woman also competed for Worcester State at the same event. Freshman

KRISTEN WILSON

Kristen Wilson finished in ninth place in the high jump after clearing 1.48 meters.

Wilmington's Ashley Vitale had 11 points and seven rebounds as the Endicott women's basketball team downed Regis 64-61 on Saturday.

Vitale, a senior forward who is also a team captain, scored four of her team's first six points of the game. The Gulls were able to rebound from their first conference loss of the season, which occurred earlier in the week.

Vitale has been consistently solid for Endicott this season, as she is averaging 15.3 points and 7.4 rebounds. She has started all 19 of her team's games, and is next in action on Friday when she and her squad travel down to Salve Regina.

Freshman Amy Fahey scored 14 points and grabbed four rebounds for the Fitchburg State women's basketball team in its 99-96 overtime loss to Bridgewater State on Saturday.

Fahey, a Wilmington native, was 4-for-7 from the field and 6-for-10 from the free throw line. She scored her 14 points in only 21 minutes off the bench.

Fitchburg State plays host to Salem State on Saturday afternoon.

Corey Ryser had seven points off the bench on a very efficient night shooting to help lead the Bridgewater State men's basketball team to an 87-54 win over Fitchburg State on Saturday.

Ryser, a junior guard from Tewksbury, was 3-for-4 from the field and 1-for-2 behind the three-point line. He scored his seven points in 20 minutes of play and is now averaging 6.7 points a game.

The Bears sport a record of 12-8 and will take on Framingham State on Thursday.

Local communities awarded grant money for fire safety from FEMA

By RYAN LAROCHE

It's no secret that firefighters have a difficult job. Their safety is compromised on a daily basis whether they're entering a burning building, assisting the police in handling any number of incidents or performing a life-saving rescue. It is, therefore, necessary that these men and women are well taken care of whenever the opportunity presents itself.

Fortunately, such an opportunity arose recently when FEMA (Federal Emergency Management Agency) awarded three local communities (Stoneham, Winchester and Wakefield) grants under the FEMA's Assistance to Firefighters Grants.

In total, $955,216 was given to communities across Massachusetts for improved operations and safety for first responders. The announcement of the grant money was made by Senators John Kerry and Scott Brown, along with Congressmen Jim McGovern, John Oliver, Edward J. Markey, and Richard E. Neal.

"We have a sacred obligation to give firefighters the training and equipment they need to stay safe on the job. It's the least we can do for public servants who risk their lives to keep our families safe every time that bell rings," said Sen. Kerry.

"Firefighters risk their lives day in and day out protecting the citizens of Massachusetts, and we must ensure they have the necessary equipment," said Sen. Brown. "I'm grateful for their service and pleased they are receiving these resources to support their efforts."

"I am pleased that the Department of Homeland Security has recognized the great benefit these funds will provide to the communities of Lee, Russell, Pittsfield and Goshen.

These funds provide our firefighters with the resources that are necessary to continue providing the highest level of service to our communities," said Rep. Oliver.

"I'm very pleased with this funding," said Rep. McGovern. "I know that this federal assistance has been a high priority for the Southborough and Somerset Fire Departments.

I believe that homeland security starts with hometown security. It's critical that we provide local first responders with the resources they need to protect our communities. The federal government must be a partner in that effort."

"Our firefighters put their lives on the line day in and day out as they bravely respond to emergencies," said Rep. Markey. "This vital federal funding answers their 911 call for the tools and training they need to continue providing the best protection for the citizens of our cities and towns.

These heroes deserve the best resources available to ensure the safety and security of our Commonwealth residents."

"As a longtime supporter of the Assistance to Fire-fighters Grant program, I am very pleased that the Town of Warren was awarded federal assistance in the latest round of this very competitive process.

The brave firefighters in the department deserve the best equipment and resources to help keep their community safe. Today's announcement will help the town accomplish that objective," said Rep. Neal.

would be used to purchase 10 new mobile radios for the town's fire trucks and all equipment that goes along with it (antennas, etc.).

The town was also fortunate to receive another grant in the amount of $5,300 from the state, also for fire safety. This grant allows the department the chance to travel to each school and hold events to teach fire safety to the students.

Movie Reviews

by Paul Feely

"THE ROOMMATE" A WASTE OF TIME

"THE ROOMMATE" STARS Minka Kelly and Leighton Meester and is a ripoff of "Single White Female." It is the story of Sara who heads to California to major in fashion design where she is paired with the ultimate in neighborly nut jobs, her new (and mentally unbalanced) roommate. The reasons behind the insanity are never explained.

"THE ROOMMATE" GRADE: **

One of the worst movies to be released in weeks, this ripoff of 'Single White Female' is a true waste of time.

The plot plays out like this: Sara (Minka Kelly) heads to California to major in fashion design at the fictional ULA. There she is paired with the ultimate in neighborly nutjobs, her new (and mentally unbalanced) roommate Rebecca (played by Leighton Meester, of TV's 'Gossip Girl').

This same movie studio has already brought you a ripoff of 'Fatal Attraction' called 'Obsessed' and starring Beyonce (with Ali Larter in the Glenn Close role), and now they pull from the Single White Female well for another movie.

The movie would have fared better as a straight-to-DVD release, and was likely released this past weekend due to the lack of other options for new releases.

Meester's genuinely creepy performance as the wackjob roommate is the only redeeming quality about the movie.

In true "Single White Female" style, Rebecca calls Sara incessantly, goes through her possessions, and puts her enemies in the hospital.

In large part, Sara is oblivious to Rebecca's evil ways. She goes out every night and when comes back to their dorm, Rebecca is there waiting - snad she's been off her happy pills for weeks.

The reasons behind her insanity are never even explained. There is no good reason to see this movie - if you like the idea, check out the original 'SWF' instead.

"THE RITE" GRADE: **

As a studio release for the horror film "The Rite" points out, Pope John Paul II once said, "The battle against the Devil, which is the principal task of Saint Michael the Archangel, is still being fought today, because the Devil is still alive and active in the world."

"The Rite" is a supernatural thriller that uncovers the Devil's reach to even one of the holiest places on Earth. Allegedly inspired by true events, the film follows seminary student Michael Kovak (Colin O'Donoghue), who is sent to study exorcism at the Vatican in spite of his own doubts about the controversial practice and even his own faith.

Wearing his deep skepticism like armor, Michael challenges his superiors to look to psychiatry, rather than demons, in treating the possessed. Only when he's sent to apprentice with the unorthodox Father Lucas (Anthony Hopkins)—a legendary priest who has performed thousands of exorcisms—does Michael's armor begin to fall. As he is drawn into a troubling case that seems to transcend even Father Lucas's skill, he begins to glimpse a phenomenon science can't explain or control...and an evil so violent and terrifying that it forces him to question everything he believes.

Directed by Mikael Håfström, "The Rite" stars Oscar-winner Anthony Hopkins ("Silence of the Lambs"), Colin O'Donoghue in his feature film debut, Toby Jones ("Frost/Nixon"), with Ciarán Hinds ("Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows - Part 2"), and Rutger Hauer ("Batman Begins," "Blade Runner")

"The Rite" isn't all that good, but surprisingly it's not all that terrible, mainly because of Sir Anthony Hopkins. He plays the part, at times, like a first cousin to his most famous role, Hannibal Lecter, and he is clearly having a blast doing it. His approach to the role is fun to watch, and the movie is the better for it.

There are some genuinely scary moments, a few that rival 'The Exorcist' for creepiness and shock value, making "The Rite" an unexpected treat - a decent horror moovie in the dead of winter.

"NO STRINGS ATTACHED" GRADE: ***

Natalie Portman shows she can easily carry a romantic comedy, and more than makes up for castmate Ashton Kutcher's shortcomings as an actor in the new date flick 'No Strings Attached'.

In the film, Emma Kurtzman (Portman) and Adam Franklin (Kutcher) meet as 14-year-olds at Camp Weehawken, where Adam makes an awkward and unfortunate pass at Emma, which she brushes off and shoots down.

Later, they run into each other at a frat party at Adam's college, but even that passes without any romance developing. It's not until they get meet again in Los Angeles, where Emma's completing a residency at a hospital and Adam is working on a TV show (which strongly resembles Glee), that they finally become 'best friends with benefits'.

Adam'sm looking to date, but Emma's not ready for anything more than casual sex, often on demand (she hits him with messages on his phone like 'Meet me in 30 min', giving new meaning to the term 'sexting'). Or is she looking for more as well?

The set-up is standard and cliches are everywhere (does every romantic comedy have to feature a woman easing her heartache by stuffing her face, this time with donut holes), but the film is entertaining.

Portman seems invested in her role as Emma, and while Kutcher is less talented, he's not terrible. And the rest of the ensemble - Mindy Kaling, Greta Gerwig, Kevin Kline, and Lake Bell - is also good, especially Kline as Kutcher's Tv-star dad.

The plot also features the new twist on the old romantic tale, where this time it's the female character who is commitment-shy and in control, while the boy-toy sits and waits for his phone to ding with a text message.

The film is smartly written, and it's directed by Ivan Reitman, who is no stranger to good comedies.

If it's still in theaters in a couple of weeks, 'No Strings Attached' will be the perfect date movie for Valentines weekend. And stick around for the final credits - Reitman slips in a few good jokes, proving the man behind classics like 'Ghostbusters' and 'Stripes' hasn't lost his touch.

"THE GREEN HORNET" GRADE: **

What was once a radio series in the 1930s has been updated to a 3D feature on IMAX screens, as the enduring Green Hornet and his crime-fighting partner Kato leap into 2011 with laughs and stunts in this enjoyable action-comedy.

Prior to this, Rogen has specialized in comedies like Superbad, Knocked Up and Zack and Miri Make a Porno, but here he makes his debut as the Green Hornet. His sense of humor shines through in the role, and he also serves as co-writer and executive producer.

As any fans of the show may know Kato is the real brains and firepower behind the Green Hornet. His prowess as a mechanic is on display whenever he and the Hornet climb behind the wheel of their vehicle, known as Black Beauty, which features more firepower and gadgets than anything Q developed for James Bond over the years.

Cameron Diaz co-stars as Lenore Case, a temp who becomase Reid's executive assistant, and she gives one of her funniest performances in years.

The new Green Hornet focuses on comedy and lots of action. Despite the film's the hail of gunfire and fisticuffs, a lighthearted tone prevails.

Rogen is a perfect choice to play newspaper heir Reid, and this has the makings of a new film series, if successful enough.

"Expecting Isabel" at Park Playhouse

"EXPECTING ISABEL" is being presented by the Burlington Players from March 4-19 at the Park Playhouse in Burlington. It is a savvy comedy about the ache of infertility.

The emphasis is on humor in "Expecting Isabel", running March 4-19 at the Park Playhouse, One Edgemere Avenue in Burlington.

Lisa Loomer's "Expecting Isabel" takes audiences through the undignified, expensive and endlessly frustrating process of dealing with infertility. It's a poignant and wild ride through the help, opinions and obstacles encountered in the couple's quest for parenthood.

Jennifer Lavin Howard directs a gifted cast including Dave Bojarczuk, Katharine Braun-Levine, A.J. DePrimeo, Bernie Hutchens, Sophia

Milas, Kerry Moe, Teri Muller, Chip Sheeran and Leslie Wagner.

"Lisa Loomer uses laughter to soothe the ache of infertility, a savvy comedy." -LA Times. "a tart tour of the emotional horrors that can come with trying to make a miracle -Washington Times. "a sweet and very knowing story, keen satire on the fertility industry and the extreme lengths to which some people will go." -LA Life.

Performances are $15-18, with a $3 discount for seniors and students. Buy on-line at burlingtonplayers.com or call 781-229-2649 to reserve.

Is there value in old books?

Kenneth Gloss, proprietor of the nationally known Brattle Book Shop in Boston's Downtown Crossing will give a free and open talk entitled, "Is There Value in Your Old and Rare Books?" The talk is sponsored by the Tewksbury Public Library located at 300 Chandler Street in Tewksbury on Wednesday February 9 at 6:30 p.m.

New England homes are treasure-troves for old and rare books that have increased in value over the years," says Gloss. "We invite the public to bring any volumes they want to know about to the lecture for a free verbal appraisal."

The Brattle Book Shop is one of America's oldest and largest antiquarian bookstores. Kenneth Gloss succeeded his late father, George Gloss - a well-known figure both in Boston and international antiquarian circles. The Brattle Book Shop is also proud to have been a contributor to the WGBH Annual Auction each and every year that the station has held its fund drive. Ken has been seen on PBS' Antiques Roadshow with some frequency and has been a popular guest on WBZ

Radio as well as other radio, TV and cable stations on numerous occasions both in New England, nationally as well as in Great Britain.

Gloss will bring to the lecture several examples of interesting books, magazines and ephemera from the store's private collection, such as a 1912 World Series scorecard and examples of old LIFE Magazines and the sales

TRI-PARTNERSHIP (READING, WAKEFIELD, MELROSE)

"The town has joined with two adjoining communities to apply for a grant to potentially establish a regional public health district," notes the Reading edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"As part of his recommended Fiscal Year 2012 municipal budget, Town Manager Peter Hechenbleikner has proposed reducing the hours of the health director position, currently held by Larry Ramdin, from full time to part time.

"In a presentation to the Board of Selectmen regarding the budget made last month, Hechenbleikner stated that one of the ways the town could accomplish this, while not reducing overall service to residents, would be to pursue regionalization efforts - but first the town needed to find local communities to partner with.

"That has apparently been accomplished. Hechenbleikner recently informed the Selectmen that letter of intent to file a grant application has been submitted to the state, as part of the Public Health District Incentive Grant Program, with representatives from Melrose and Wakefield signing on.

"The effort could eventually, over time, result in a regional health district between the three communities..."

"The Massachusetts Department of Public Health (MDPH) has issued a Request for Responses (RFR) for the Public Health District Incentive Grant Program. The Program is funded under the federal Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act of 2010 as part of the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) 'Strengthening Public Health Infrastructure to Improve Health Outcomes' initiative.

"The purpose of the program is to provide financial support for groups of municipalities to enter into formal, long term agreements to share resources and coordinate activities in order to improve the scope, quality, and effectiveness of local public health services for their combined populations...Proposals are due by February 28, 2011 ....

SEALING THE DEAL IN TEWKSBURY

"Bob Soldani of Tewksbury, a longtime Easter Seals volunteer, is one of the leaders in this year's Team Easter Seals Campaign," notes the Tewksbury "Town Crier."

"He will play a major role leading a group of the campaign's 90 volunteers, who will reach out to 2,000 people in the coming weeks. The campaign has a goal of raising $500,000 for Easter Seals services for children and adults with disabilities.

"Soldani became involved with the organization nearly 20 years ago and has been active in Team Easter Seals Walk With Me fundraisers. A retired colonel in the National Guard, he was formerly employed by TJX Corp.

"Easter Seals Massachusetts services ensure that children and adults with disabilities have equal opportunities to live, learn, work and play. A non-profit, nonsectarian organization, Easter Seals offers technological assistance, job training and employment services, recreational and youth leadership activities, veterans' services, rehabilitation services and public awareness programs. For more information, call 800 244-2756 or go to www.EasterSealsMa.org."

PRESIDENTIAL BEAMS IN WOBURN

"A request from Hughes Entertainment seeking an entertainment license for LaserCraze on Presidential Way was approved at the recent License Commission meeting," notes the Woburn edition of the "Daily times Chronicle."

"LaserCraze, which currently operates a North Andover location and two others, is seeking the entertainment license to offer some 36 video games and add a pizza cafe with soft drinks and other snacks.

"A letter was introduced to the commission by the applicants from the North Andover Police Chief noting no problems with the facility there.

"A floor plan was also introduced to the board showing the location of proposed video game area and pizza cafe. An air-filled bouncing unit is also planned for one room, namely for birthday and other outings.

"The cafe will include some eight tables for people to sit and eat.

"Noting work is currently ongoing at the location at 15 Presidential Way, officials with Hughes Entertainment and LaserCraze said an opening later in February is planned.

"The only person to speak at the public hearing was Woburn Business Association Executive Director Paul Meaney who termed LaserCraze 'a good fit' for this section of Presidential Way.

"Under a special permit approved by the City Council, LaserCraze will be open seven days a week closing at 10 p.m. Sunday through Thursday and midnight on Friday and Saturday."

MIDDLESEX EAST SPORTS WEEKLY TRIVIA:

Bart Starr was the MVP of the first two Super Bowls that Green Bay won. He was injured in the second game, though, and was unable to play the fourth quarter. What quarterback took his place?

Choices are:

- a) Scott Hunter
- b) Lamar McHan
- c) Len Dawson
- d) Zeke Bratkowski

Answer appears elsewhere in this column.

•Freshman Erin Machado (Swansea, Mass.) registered a personal-best 9.85 to win the floor exercise championship, and upperclassmen Danielle Reibold (Horsham, Pa.) and Katie Lawrence (Lyme, Conn.) also posted wins to lead the UNH gymnastics team to a victory over the University of Bridgeport recently at Lundholm Gymnasium.

UNH improved to 4-2 on the season by virtue of a 194.025-192.15 win over Bridgeport, which also stands at 4-2 on the year.

The Wildcats won the vault competition, 48.975-47.95, with reigning EAGL Gymnast of the Week Austyn Fobes (Howell, N.J.) registering a personal-best 9.85 to tie for the top spot on that apparatus. Ali Carr (Chelmsford, Mass.) and Chelsea Steinberg (Ridgewood, N.J.) finished just off the pace, tying for third place with matching scores of 9.8. Jillian Hudson (Sparkill, N.Y.) also earned a fifth-place score with a personal-best 9.775 that drew praise from head coach Gail Goodspeed.

"Jill was second up and probably landed her best vault of the season," Goodspeed said. "Her hit set helped set the tone, and she likely would have scored higher if she had performed later in the lineup."

New Hampshire swept the top three spots on uneven bars, where Reibold's personal-best 9.85 led all competitors, while Carr (9.775) and Lawrence (9.75) rounded out the high scores. Despite the individual accolades, the Wildcats only totaled 47.425 points on bars, behind the Purple Knights' 47.575.

"We had two great events, beam was okay, but bars was beneath our abilities, and I'm very disappointed with our performance in that event," Goodspeed said.

Leading the way in the strong beam contingent was Lawrence, who tied with Bridgeport's Emily Repko for the championship with a personal-best 9.875. Reibold's 9.8 scored landed her a third-place finish, and Jen Aucoin (9.775, Mullica Hill, N.J.) and JANNELLE MINICHELLO (9.725, TEWKSBURY, MASS.) each notched personal bests to finish fourth and fifth, respectively. UNH tallied a 48.725 on beam, besting Bridgeport's 48.125.

Machado's triumph on floor was complemented by Fobes' 9.8, tied for second, and a three-way deadlock among Wildcats for fourth place, as Tasia Percevez (Fountain Hills, Ariz.), Reibold and Courtney Connors (Buffalo, N.Y.) all amassed a 9.75. The Wildcats totaled 48.9 on floor, compared to Bridgeport's 48.5, and the freshman left an impression on her coach.

"Erin was fourth up on floor and won the event against solid competition. She's been moving up in the lineup every week and is performing a routine we know we can count on," Goodspeed said.

•Need some help with the trivia question? He's the father of the Bengals' offensive coordinator.

•UMASS LOWELL FIELD HOCKEY SENIOR SAMMY MACY (TEWKSBURY, MASS.) has become to school's first finalist for the Collegiate Women Sports Awards Division II Athlete of the Year Award, as announced by the Board of the CWSA on Thursday.

The ballot will consist of 11 sport winners, determined by the end of the winter and spring athletic seasons. The winner will be broadcast at a press conference in New York City on June 27, 2011.

The current nominees from the fall seasons include Cal State San Bernadino's Samantha Middleborn for volleyball, Shippensburg's Neely Spence for cross country and Grand Valley State's Jenna Wenginski for soccer.

To celebrate Macy's nomination, American Honda Motor Company will donate $1,000 to the women's athletic fund at UMass Lowell.

Macy, one of the most decorated student-athletes in school history, was a tri-captain of the undefeated, 24-0, NCAA DII National Champion field hockey team. She was also a three-time Longstreth/NFHCA First Team All-American and three-time Northeast-10 First Team All-Conference selection. This year, she was named to the NE-10 and NCAA All-Tournament Teams.

"Sammy's name is synonymous with passion, pride and perseverance," said Head Coach Shannon Hlebichuk. "She is a dominating presence on the field because she is a multi-dimensional player. She not only led the team in scoring for three straight years, but is also the second all-time assists leader. She involves her teammates, sees the field well and has truly embraced the game of field hockey. She is not just a finisher, but a smart playmaker and selfless teammate - a rare combination."

She started all 24 games for the River Hawks, scoring a program-record 30 goals and adding 16 assists for a program-best 76 points on the year. She tallied seven game-winners and became the program's all-time leading scorer, finishing the year with 220 points. She also ranks second in NCAA DII history in the same category.

Macy, a fierce competitor, has been instrumental in raising the level of field hockey at UMass Lowell during the last four years and into the foreseeable future.

"Sammy battled back from not one, but two ACL tears during her career," said Hlebichuk. "She never came back the same player - she always came back even stronger. She put in whatever time and efforts were necessary to rehab her knee and never complained once about it."

Off the field, she is a member of the ODK Leadership Honor Society. She has spent time volunteering at events in the Greater Lowell community such as Saint's Medical Center Fall Festival for Life Cancer Walk, Wicked Irish Festival, UMass Lowell Annual Golf Tournament and Bowling for Wishes.

Macy volunteered with the UMass Lowell Athletic Marketing department during Freshman Orientation in the summer of 2011, introducing the incoming class of River Hawks about school spirit and the Blue Fan Group at the University.

When she heard that the Northeast/Metro Bay State Field Hockey team would not be able to compete if they could not find a coach, Macy volunteered her time through the summer to coach the youth team. She had such a great experience coaching that she will be returning to lead the team in the summer of 2011.

"Sammy's involvement off the field has been remarkable, especially this past summer," said Hlebichuk. "She not only has a passion for the game of field hockey, but being involved in athletics, as well. Her experiences on and off the field at UMass Lowell have sparked an interest within her to consider a career in athletics."

Macy, a criminal justice major, is the daughter of Doug and Mary Macy of Tewksbury, Mass.

•ANSWER TO THIS WEEK'S TRIVIA QUESTION: The answers is Zeke Bratkowski, who graduated from Georgia in 1953 and was the NCAA's all-time leading passer until 1961.

•DO YOU KNOW SOMETHING WE DON'T? If you have information about a local athlete that you would like to see appear in this column, please email it to readingchronicle@comcast.net, or mail it to: Paul Feely, Middlesex East Sports, P.O. From S-1 toward purchasing a piece of equipment that disinfests ambulances and its equipment. It uses a misting system, Fire Chief John Nash said, to eliminate pathogens in the vehicles.

"Without this money, we wouldn't have been able to afford this technology," he noted.

Thanks to this new system, Chief Nash believed it would only take less than an hour to finish the job, whereas previously it took a whole day to do it manually.

Wakefield

Fortunately, for Wakefield, receiving the most of the three local towns, $89,100, that money will go toward purchasing 36 new individually assigned portable radios and nine mobile radios for fire and ladder trucks.

The town is required to switch to a narrowband frequency by Dec. 31, 2012, said Fire Chief Michael Sullivan. Thanks to the grant money, it will be able to meet that deadline.

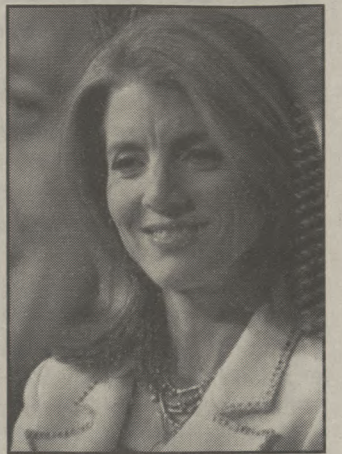

Chief Sullivan said he expects to get the new equipment out by July 1, 2011 where glass sparkles across most of the rear wall. The stunning trio of windows in the living room have the characteristic Craftsman gridded uppers. A smaller transom window crowns the threesome at the vault's apex. Wide sliding glass doors in the dining area open onto a partially vaulted deck, which could be screened.

An eating counter is all that stands between the dining room and kitchen. Its location near the range makes it a breeze to serve up steaming soups and snacks. Counters wrap around sections of all four sides of the kitchen, and the assortment of cabinets on three of the sides include a roomy pantry.

Rooms to the left of the Snowberry's stairs are more private, though the den could function as a shared space as well. It could be a study, library, or home office, if not needed as a third bedroom. The owners' suite is vaulted and boasts a large bathroom with a walk-in closet. A pocket door seals the closet off from a bathroom with a deep soaking tub. Another pocket door slides closed to offer toilet privacy and shower steam containment.

In this Cape Cod-style beach cottage, the main floor is one flight up from ground level. A double garage with plenty of storage space fills the Snowberry's lower level, along with an unfinished family room. Additional storage space is also located here, and the area is plumbed to simplify the later inclusion of a wet bar and compact bathroom.

The vaulted entry porch is a half flight up from the ground. Inside, at the top of another half flight, are three linked interior gathering spaces, and one exterior. The vaulted living room is open to the dining room on the right,
